ACHS makes cuts

Custodians, bus drivers affected

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School has taken more drastic action in its efforts to cut costs at the school by eliminating all custodial and bus driver positions, while laying off the hall guards until further notice. The board took formal action Monday night to reduce those employees.

The board hopes to cut costs in the transportation and maintenance budgets allowing more money to be available for the education fund. Taxpayers recently rejected the school board's request for a tax increase for the education fund.

"Those are things we must do," said Superintendent Robert Schley. "We have to do what is best for the district."

The plan is to accept the lowest qualifying bid from both bus and custodial contractors, which will cost less than retaining the current staff. The school has approximately 12 custodial staff and 18 to 19 bus drivers. In addition, the school plans to contract with Marriott for food service and eliminate another 8 to 10 cooks currently employed at the school.

The good news is that except for the hall guards, all the employees will be offered jobs by the contractors. Negotiations with the contractors continue. At this time it is not known whether or not all of the salaries will be comparable to what the employees are currently making.

"They are all going to be offered positions (except the hall security) with the contractors," said Schley. "The board is not just throwing them out in the cold. They will, however, have to meet the performance standards of the contractors."

On the issue of hall security, however, Schley said their future was not as clear. He is hoping to use more teachers in the supervision of students.

"We are trying to use them (teachers) instead of support staff," Schley explained. "I don't know what we are going to do with the supervisors. We may end up bringing them back."

What may be more worrisome for the district is the fact that the time is soon approaching to begin negotiations with the teachers. The teachers' contract will end at the finish of the school year. At a recent debate between ACHS administrators and members of the Better Education/Sensible Taxes group about the recently defeated education fund referendum, one member of the audience asked if the teachers were willing to take a pay freeze in a joint effort with taxpayers and belt-tightening administrators to reduce the now more than $2 million deficit. There was no answer from the teachers attending the meeting.

"We will be meeting with the professional negotiator for the upcoming negotiations," said Schley.

ACHS bus drivers voice outrage over firing

KEVIN HANRAHAN

"Stabbed in the back," "cheated," "shocked"—Those were the phrases and words some of the approximately 35 Antioch High School bus drivers, custodians and hall monitors used to describe the board's decision to eliminate those positions.

For many, the news came as a complete surprise when they were told March 17 that their positions may be eliminated and replaced by an outside contracting service.

"They never came to us for concessions," said Diana Rudis, who has been behind the wheel of an Antioch bus for 17 years. She continued, "They're selling the buses so they can get cash right now. Does this mean they're going to sell the desks and chairs next?"

In a move to help eliminate a $2 million budget deficit, the Antioch school board is opting to lay off its current bus drivers, sell its more than 20 buses and hire an outside contracting firm to furnish the same busing service.

According to Superintendent Robert Schley, the school board must inform its employees of a potential reduction in force 60 days before the end of the school year.

The Antioch transportation employees may be offered their same positions at comparable pay but could stand to lose substantial insurance benefits as well as their status in the Illinois retirement fund.

The cafeteria employees will be employed through Marriott, and the school board is still negotiating with outside maintenance firms.

The transportation firm the school is considering is Laydlaw, based out of Kenosha, Wis. Schley also said the school is working out a deal with Laydlaw to sell its inventory of buses for See DRIVERS page A10

Woodcrest lawsuit to affect larger group

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

After a review of plat maps, it has been determined that a larger number of residents will be affected by the Woodcrest lawsuit. The Woodcrest Homeowners Association has filed suit to remove the cloud of title from the association property.

Originally, the newly re-incorporated homeowners' association had only the 1923 plat maps, however, after an investigation, maps from 1925, 1926, and 1928 have been located. The additional homeowners will not affect the lawsuit against John Krueger.

According to Bill Liniewicz of Woodcrest, the trouble at Woodcrest began in October of 1959 when lot 11 was sold to Fredrica Krueger. In 1966, Joseph Krueger and John Krueger Sr. transferred the property to John and Marilyn Krueger Jr.

In February of 1980, Krueger created a land trust deed in the York State Bank in Elmhurst. At that time he included the property descriptions of lot 11 as well as the property description of the association beaches, parks, See LAWSUIT page A10

Village continues to review train stations

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

It's back to the drawing board, no pun intended, for Village Planner Bob Silhan. After presenting two more beautiful renderings of the proposed Metra train station for Antioch, the Antioch Village Board has decided to review costs and financing before approving a plan for the station.

These two drawings included different changes requested by the board. One included a more classical style of architecture with open wings, measuring roughly 2,700 square feet. The other drawing included suggestions by Trustee Don Amundson in a similar layout with a more Victorian look.

The classical station had a price tag of $221,000 and that did not include bathrooms, or a parking lot. The Victorian station rang up a charge of $205,000, again not including bathrooms and the parking lot. The preliminary price tag on the 110-space parking lot is a whopping $410,000. Although, regarding the parking lot, Silhan reminded the board, "This is the worst case scenario."

At any rate, the board finally decided to take a look at costs and available funding before reviewing any more plans. While the board hopes to build a station that enhances the Village of Antioch, it is mindful of the costs. Tim Wells, village administrator, was not available at Monday's meeting to provide financing information. The village does expect to receive approximately $100,000 from Operation Greenlight.

"It's dollars before design," quipped Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. And, it's back to the drawing board for Silhan.

Emmons School referendum committee tired, but jubilant

Staff Reporter

It was a tired, but jubilant group, which celebrated the passage of the Emmons School building referendum Saturday, at Superintendent Matt Tabar's home. Tabar had invited committee members to unwind, reflect, and even celebrate the fact that Emmons was one of only two school referendums that passed in Lake County in this election.

After uncountable hours spent in planning meetings, phone calling, door-to-door canvassing, envelope stuffing, and all the rest of the work involved in getting a school referendum passed these days, the party was a good opportunity to review their efforts. The group had a lot to be proud of in their work to get the much needed building addition for the school.

"The thing went so well it was phenomenal," said Tabar to the group. "There were so many people who helped, I can't even mention them all." Tabar then went on to highlight some of the efforts of the chairpeople of the committee.

"I especially want to thank Barb Comstock. She stepped forward and did a tremendous job," said Tabar. "A special thanks to Debbie Diemer, who besides being a board member, made the time to help out. Thanks also to Bruce Dille for all his work with the mailing labels."

In keeping with the austere budget of Emmons School, Tabar then presented some rather humorous gifts to the committee. Some of the gifts included several clay bricks painted gold, a fresh packet of mailing labels, two cans with string tied between them (to save on phone costs), and a non-rusted sign holder for referendum signs. Apparently the referendum signs had been placed on older, donated prongs (from some past election) which stubbornly refused to go into the frozen Antioch ground.

At this point in the party, humor overtook the group. Comstock even quipped, "My biggest motivator was the fact that I did not want to have to do this again."

Humor aside, the work on the school addition should begin shortly. Students and teacher will need to suffer through only one more school year under the present overcrowded conditions.

Residents petition for re-zoning

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Village Board seemed a bit uneasy about the proposal to rezone a contiguous block of Ida Avenue from a multi-family zoning area to a single-family residential at Monday's board meeting. However, after lengthy discussion, the board did refer the petition of eight residents to the planning and zoning board.

The trouble started a couple of months ago when a developer proposed to place a multi-unit building on Ida Avenue. Some residents were surprised to discover that despite the fact that they had single family residences on their own property, it was possible that if they sold their homes, the buyer could convert the property into multi-family units because of the zoning in the area.

After strenuously objecting to the developers plan, the Antioch Village Board rejected the developer proposal and suggested to residents they prepare a petition of all the residents requesting a zoning change. Out of the 12 residents that would be affected, eight signed the petition. And, out of the four that did not, two residents had not been contacted.

The problem, of course, is the four owners who did not participate in the petition. While the village board has no wish to begin forcing zoning changes on residents, if only eight of the 12 lots are zoned for single-family residences, the result will be spot zoning. The board is concerned that a developer wishing to place a multi-family on the four remaining properties would have a good argument for doing so, thereby defeating the purpose of the rezoning.

Logically, each resident willing to change zoning is not doing so for him or herself, but instead for the rest of the neighborhood. Without a contiguous block of similar zoning, the action could become pointless.

"I have trouble with arbitrarily rezoning property," said Trustee Don Amundson, who ultimately voted against the proposal. "We have not done any of that in the past."

"Eight out of the 12 owners say they want the property to stay as it is (residential single-family)," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. "The folks, citizens, and taxpayers that signed this petition are anxious to have a public hearing. If you piecemeal it, you fail to meet their objectives."

However, concerned about forcing rezoning on unwilling residents, Mayor Shineflug shot back, "I don't agree with that."

In the end, the board voted to send two separate petitions to the planning and zoning board for public hearings. The four property owners who have not signed the petition will receive a personal visit from village staff prior to official notification in order to offer in depth information about the possible rezoning change.

It is hoped that the public hearings on these issues will be held at the same time the developers, who started this in the first place, hope to get a variance on the two lots in question in order to build a single family residence. If the developers get the variance, which would provide for two 45 foot lots, that property could then become part of the petition for rezoning. The date for the developers' hearing is April 28.

More public hearings on Antioch rezoning

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals (LCZBA) will be returning to Antioch on April 6 at 1:30 p.m. to resume the hearings which began earlier in the month to correct zoning errors from 1988. The LCZBA held similar hearings in Lake Villa and Grant Township, but the bulk of the property to be addressed is located in Antioch, requiring a second, and maybe even more public hearings.

The first hearing became mired early on when residents objected to the rezoning of property owned by Kenneth Domanchuk. Domanchuk had hoped to have his property, which is currently zoned Countryside, to commercial. Without any zoning change, Domanchuk will be unable to rebuild the structures presently on the property if they are destroyed by fire or disaster.

On the other hand, most of the surrounding property is residential and many homeowners feel that the entire area should be zoned residential. The LCZBA, instead made no zoning change for the property because the framework plan had not yet been approved by the Lake County Board and the LCZBA felt uncomfortable making drastic changes without it.

With any luck, there will be fewer controversial issues to be considered and the board can wrap up the hearings and make recommendations. Otherwise, it is possible there will be a third public meeting. The hearing will be held at Hogans Restaurant at the Antioch Golf Club.

Tree ordinance grows

MARY FOLEY

Staff reporter

What started the ball rolling was a little ordinance to allow the sale of Christmas trees in a commercially zoned parking lot. After the Antioch Village Board and village staff took a look at it, the ordinance has now blossomed into a legal octopus, with arms reaching into fertilizer products, annual flowers, pumpkins, and possibly even lawn tractors.

The board, at the Monday night meeting, authorized Village Attorney Kenneth Clark to draft an ordinance following the planning and zoning board's public hearings regarding the outdoor sales of seasonal agricultural products. The problem is just how inclusive and specific the wording should be on the ordinance.

"I think we want to make the ordinance as broad as we can," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. "As it stands now, they would have to come before the board to get approval. They can't just do anything they want."

"We were originally talking about Christmas trees and pumpkins," said Clark. "Now it has snowballed."

Robert Silhan, the village planner, offered to the board Webster's definition of agricultural and horticultural products to provide some guidance for the ordinance. However, board members wondered aloud whether the definitions could include lawn tractors, decorative gravel and landscaping timbers, and even bags of fertilizer.

The board also acknowledged that many retailers already place these items outside during the planting and growing season. The problem is that while some retailers are zoned for this activity, others are not.

"We want to tailor the law to the reality of the facts," opined Clark.

Scholarships offered to ACHS students

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Rotary Club would like to make students at Antioch Community High School aware of the Antioch Rotary Scholarship. All graduating Antioch Community High School seniors with college plans are eligible to apply.

The application process for an Antioch Rotary Scholarship is an easy process. Students are directed to the ACHS College Career Center and fill out the "Local Scholarship Application." While the dollar amounts and numbers of awards change annually, during the 1993 school year they awarded 17 scholarships totaling $10,950. Starting with the 1991 recipients, scholarship award winners can also reapply for consideration for additional scholarships in the ensuing year.

Criteria for determining general scholarship winners is based on the financial need of the applicant, academic achievement, and extra-curricular activities. The Antioch Rotary Scholarship also administers the Bill Brook Memorial Community Scholarship that additionally requires community service involvement as one of its criteria.

After the applications are received by the ACHS Guidance Department, the student's name is replaced with a number to allow for initial selection without knowing the student's name. Copies of all applications will then be submitted to the Rotary Scholarship Selection Committee for review. Finalists will then be interviewed at ACHS during the day.

Scholarship recipients are invited and expected to attend an Antioch Rotary Club luncheon in the Spring of 1994 and to schedule follow-up visits to club meetings when in the area.

For more information about the scholarship, please contact Antioch Community High School Guidance Department.

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A variance was approved at Monday's Antioch Village Board meeting to allow a developer to build 11 condominiums at 639 Main Street. The variance was necessary because zoning ordinances require that lots must be fronted on a main roadway. The variance would allow a private roadway easement to allow access to the landlocked property.

Of greater concern to the board was to avoid the problem of the property becoming rental property. "The developer is willing to write that (non-rental clause) into the agreement," Village Planner Bob Silhan assured the board. "Rental units would be prohibited."

Village Attorney Kenneth Clark explained the legality of such a clause. "You can prohibit renters," said Clark. "Sometimes the condominium association even has the right of first refusal when an owner wants to sell."

In addition to the non-rental clause, a penalty clause will also be included charging three times as much as it will cost if the non-renting clause is violated. Another condition of the variance will include a fence.

"Neighbors of the proposed building approved the recommendation of the planning and zoning board," Silhan told the board. "On the condition, however, a fence be put up."

The variance was approved and Clark was instructed to prepare the document. The developer now has to get the building plan approved.

The Grass Lake School Chess Club, under the fine leadership of Coach Dave Tomei, competed in the Glen Ellyn Scholastic Chess Tournament.

The Junior high team consisting of Ken Adelizzi, Mike Bezdon, Jessica Cardis, Heather Dawson, Kyle Milovanovic, Travis Pinkowski, Steve Spencer and Josh White, won the fifth place trophy out of twenty-one teams.

The fifth grade team consisting of Matt Friel, Michelle Gielow, Dana Glewicz, Nicole Melendez, Lee Morrison, Lindsey Teaters, Brandon White and Eric White, came in tenth place out of thirty-two teams in their division.

The next competition will be the Illinois State Chess Championship held in Rockford. Congratulations, everyone!

Congratulations

The March 5 birth of Abigail Davis evened up the male versus female scale in the Davis household, and everyone was extremely happy to have her do so.

She was born at 12:02 a.m. at Victory Memorial Hospital, and weighed in at nine pounds and two ounces.

Mommy, Jean, and daddy, Steve, will have a lot of help raising Abigail as her older sister and brothers step up to assume the roles of additional care givers—Nathan, Anna and Seth. Congratulations, everyone.

I can't wait to hear Seth's new baby stories. In case anyone needs reminding, little 5-year-old Seth is our official Camp Crayon story teller.

Special lady

As I have indicated many times over, each and every little person that comes our way through the Camp Crayon Program is/has been special and unique in his or her own way. Each one captures a piece of our hearts for a variety of reasons.

Because the program is for 3, 4 and 5-year-olds, we are often lucky to enjoy some of the children for three years, such is the case with 5-year-old Tricia Pringle.

It is often hard for me to believe that Tricia is only five. I enjoy talking with her and teasing with her and she responds to my antics with the wisdom and humor of a child much older.

As you know, she is dad's special princess. As I sat cutting out items for our daily project, I found Tricia at my side. As usual we engaged in friendly conversation. I asked her if her birthday bouquet was still fresh and pretty. She replied that it was. I then added if you are daddy's special princess, you must be princess No. 1 and little sister Stephanie must be princess No. 2. Tricia quickly agreed.

I continued "Hey, Tricia, did you ever think if mom and dad ever get a baby boy, dad will have to call him 'The Prince'?" She looked at me and pushed at my shoulder and exclaimed "Oh, Miss Liz!" Miss Lois then added "That's right, Tricia. A little girl is a princess, but a little boy would be a prince." Tricia thought for a moment and her impish grin told me that she felt Miss Liz was pulling her leg and had also convinced Miss Lois to take a tug of her own. "Oh, Miss Liz, indeed!"

Thank you

Yes, Yes, Yes, it definitely pays off working with 3, 4 and 5-year-olds, and making it known that one has an adorable 2-year-old granddaughter.

I want to thank little Michelle Lichter for the cute "hand-me-down" boots she so graciously turned over to me for Alyssa Janelle. Soon Michelle will be old enough to participate in the Camp Crayon Program as did her older sister Lauren and now her old brother Dylan (Mr. Dylan ie).

Thanks, Michelle. I look forward to getting to know you better when you are old enough to join us at Camp.

Partnership

The following poem, which appeared in a recent Augs newsletter, definitely points out the importance of cooperation between the school and the home. I quote:

"I dreamed I stood in a studio and watched two sculptors there. The clay they used was a young child's mind and they fashioned it with care. One was a teacher, the tools she used were books, music, and art. The other, a parent, worked with a guiding hand and a gentle, loving heart."

Day after day, the teacher toiled with touch that was careful, deft and sure. While the parent labored by his side and polished and smoothed it o'er. And when at last their work was done they were proud of what they had wrought.

For the things they had molded into the child could neither be sold nor bought. And each agreed they would have failed if each had worked alone. For behind the parent stood the school and behind the teacher, the home." Author Unknown.

Enjoy Easter dining at Antioch restaurants

For many of us, one of the most pleasurable aspects of Easter is dining out with family and friends. Are you the type that eagerly anticipates going to brunch, hoping to find tables groaning under the weight of more entrees and side dishes than you could possibly sample? Perhaps you'd prefer a special menu, allowing you to indulge yourself with wonderful food and service.

Well, Antioch is ready to cater your every whim this Easter Sunday, with many fine dining establishments eagerly awaiting the opportunity to spoil and indulge you.

The Waterfalls Restaurant, located on Route 173 just west of Route 59, has a special brunch planned. Within their refreshingly light-filled banquet room, you'll find smoked salmon, leg of lamb, stations preparing (made to order) waffles and omelets, carving stations offering baked ham and roast beef, just to mention a few. Hours are 10 a.m. till 6 p.m., reservations accepted with kid's prices available.

Hogan's located at the Antioch Golf Course, offers Easter Brunch set amid a country setting, overlooking the newly designed course. Choose from an expansive selection of entrees and accompaniments. Trays of salads, fruits, cheese and fish will fill their tables. Carving stations for lamb, beef and ham, and an array of breakfast favorites will be available. Reservations are suggested.

If you're in the mood for relaxed dining with terrific food and service, enjoy the special Easter menu at JT's Roadhouse, on Route 83, south of Route 173. Choose among some Easter favorites of lamb, chicken, or ham, or from their wonderful selection of entrees, salads, and special signature dishes. When you combine the friendly atmosphere with superior service and food, you have an unbeatable combination. Kid's menu available.

The Jensen House, located at the corner of Route 83 and Route 173, features European home cooking with many American favorites. They offer a fine selection of imported wines and beers to complement your meal. You'll find dinner specials listed on the blackboard as well as a full menu of home cooked specialties. The courteous and hard-working staff makes dining at the Jensen House a memorable experience.

TNT's, located on Route 173 west of Route 59, has a special menu featuring leg of lamb, filets and ribs. Or pick a delicious entree from their regular Sunday menu. Open 11 a.m. till 10 p.m.

Geo-Karis seeks to extend gun check law

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is seeking to extend for two more years the law that requires mental and criminal background checks on individuals wanting to purchase firearms in Illinois.

"This is a good law, a strong law that is helping to keep guns out of the hands of people who could pose a threat to public safety—people with mental problems or criminal history," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "It requires firearm dealers to consult the State Police Dial-up Transfer Inquiry Program for background checks on their would-be customers before turning over guns to them."

Sen. Geo-Karis said the law requiring background checks is scheduled to expire in September. Her Senate Bill 1719 would extend it until September, 1996.

"This would allow more time to see how effective the law is," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "A nine-member committee is reviewing it along with the Firearm Owners Identification Card. The panel will then make suggestions to the General Assembly for changes or improvements to better serve both the general public and the gun dealers themselves."

Sen. Geo-Karis introduces bill to curb drunken snowmobile drivers

Responding to a rash of snowmobile accidents and a number of resulting fatalities in northern Illinois this year, state Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) has introduced legislation to stop drunken snowmobilers in their tracks by taking away their snowmobile licenses for DUI.

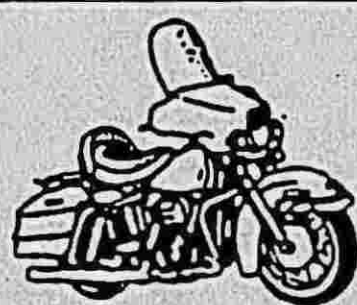

Sen. Geo-Karis said Senate Bill 1251 would require drivers of these vehicles to submit to blood alcohol testing if law enforcement officers have reason to believe they are drunk or under the influence of drugs. Those failing breathalyzer tests could lose their licenses for one year. As a safety measure, Sen. Geo-Karis' bill also prohibits snowmobile operators from driving these vehicles within 100 feet of each other on frozen waterways or at excessive speeds that endanger safety.

"I'm not against snowmobiles—in fact I rather like them," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "But we have to prevent people from driving them recklessly or when they have been drinking or using drugs. Too many people are losing their lives in this sport—five in our region in one weekend alone."

Sen. Geo-Karis said snowmobilers often drive at speeds of 60 miles per hour and may go up to 100 miles per hour or more. "No one can safely operate a vehicle at those rates while drunk or drugged," she said. "I think we should have the same tough law for snowmobiles that we have for operating cars and boats."

The requirement in her bill that vehicles stay at least 100 feet from each other is to avert multiple accidents on ice-covered lakes and other waterways, Sen. Geo-Karis said. "More than 20 snowmobiles had to be pulled up from the Fox River and Fox Lake in early January after they went through the ice," she said. "If the vehicles travel farther apart, we are less likely to have chains of accidents when one snowmobile breaks through the ice and others follow."

Felters St. Pat's party draws crowd

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Felters Homeowners Association had a big turn-out for their Annual St. Pat's party on Saturday evening. There was a steady flow of residents who stopped in for a traditional Irish dinner or just good conversation.

While the party started at 6 p.m., there were plenty of people still there after 11 p.m. On the menu was corned beef and cabbage and the Irish and non-Irish alike stopped for dinner.

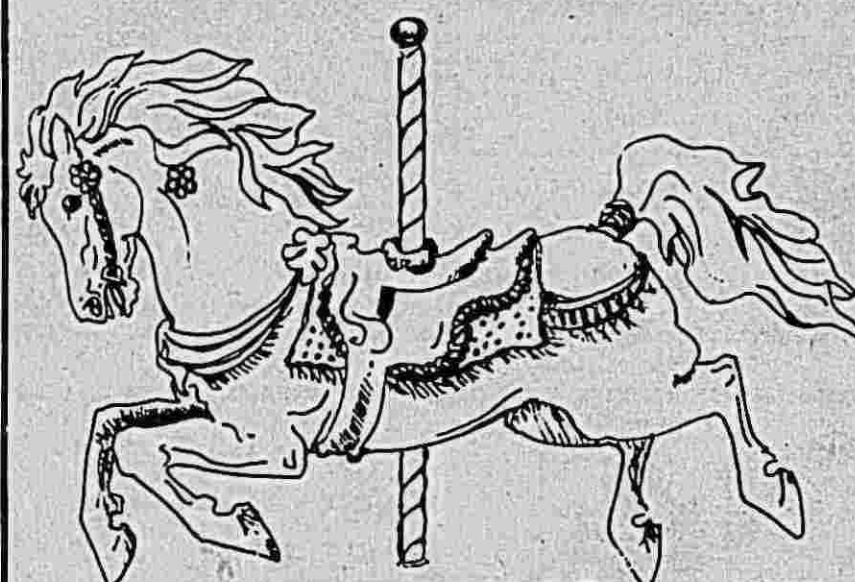

The proceeds from the party go to the association for the upkeep of the beaches and other subdivision property, as well as the many social events throughout the year. The group is facing additional costs this year after the hard winter. Several docks were damaged during the hard winter of '93-'94, particularly the new docks that were put in last year.

No estimates of the cost of repairs has been made at this time, but with the pitch-in attitude of this group, repairs will probably begin as soon as the last ice flow melts. Also, the association is formulating a plan for their annual attack on Eurasian mill-foil, that pesky seaweed that snags fishing line, chokes boat props, and makes the beach smell awful.

The next event of Felter's calendar will be the annual Easter egg hunt. This festivity is a sight to behold as the huge number of children in the subdivision scramble through the "big beach" property hunting down the hidden Easter treats.

Lake Villa to negotiate for ball fields Lawsuit

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Village Board met with the Lake County Forest Preserve to work out areas of disagreement and to facilitate a solution to allow baseball fields at Sun Lake Forest Preserve.

A decision was made to have Lake Villa be the agency the forest preserve will negotiate with. Before it was a three-step process between the forest preserve, Lake Villa Township Baseball and Lake Villa.

"The forest preserve feels more comfortable dealing with a municipality," Mayor Frank Loffredo said. "As far as they are concerned, the baseball organization can be here today and gone tomorrow."

The negotiation process will change but not the goal. Lake Villa Township Baseball was not at the meeting and has dropped out of the negotiation process. Baseball officials have admitted being frustrated in their attempts to negotiate with the forest preserve.

The preserve wants guarantees things will get done. The goal will remain the same; to get property developed for the little league.

The property in question is at the Sun Lake Forest Preserve. The village donated the land to the preserve with an understanding a portion of the site would be retained as playing fields. An agreement authorizing the use for baseball fields in Sun Lake Preserve by the village board wasn't approved by the forest preserve.

Loffredo said at the time the forest preserve had concerns and still does with the site development and funding for the project. He said the village will meet with the little league officials to determine their current stages of planning.

The original plan was to have the league develop the site, and maintain it and the village would provide security for the field. The league had proposed four fields on five-acres near Grass Lake Road. The site would include a small public address system.

The league has about 650 members from across Lake Villa Township, Antioch, parts of Gurnee and Grant Township.

There is no timetable for another meeting between the village and the forest preserve. The village needs to meet with the little league officials before they talk with the forest preserve again.

Hickory Lane, Beach Walk, and playgrounds in the Deed in Trust, number 873.

"Our lawyer, Jack Casey, said it is a dry title," explained Liniewicz. "There was no actual title transferred."

"It is silly," said Krueger of the suit to quiet the title. "On every deed you have lake rights. No individual can take those rights away." Krueger believes it was just inadvertent error that the property description appeared on the Deed of Trust.

According to Krueger, besides lot 11, his family has owned property in the area since the 1920s. He insists he received permission from a member of the homeowners association during the 1940s.

"Those piers belong to me," said Krueger. "Frank Horsch gave me permission to put them on the beach in the '40s. I have two pieces of property with lake rights. These people are trying to violate my rights."

Krueger, then allegedly put a structure, foam platform piers, and other pier sections on the association beaches. According to Charles Gerage, the beach custodian, in a letter to Illinois Department of Transportation, the pier sections were condemned by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources when they were at the Abbey in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

"The foam platforms are degrading and the wood is rotting," said Gerage. "They pose a threat to the aquatic fish and plant life, as well as a danger to human use."

Apparently Gerage was correct because the association was found in violation of the Lake County Building Code, the Lake County Nuisance Ordinance, and the Lake County Zoning Ordinance for their beach property. In a letter dated Oct. 25, the group was cited for having an "unsafe, dilapidated structure, junk and debris, and no permit posted for electricity."

"My problems began in 1990 when Charlie Gerage knocked down my electric pole," said Krueger. "Since it was a knock-down, why would I need a permit?"

Krueger was also notified by IDOT for violations. According to the notice of July 20, 1993, Krueger was in violation of the Rivers, Lakes, and Streams Act for making additions to an existing boat dock facility and construction of a walkway in the waters of Channel Lake and within a floodplain without a permit.

Woodcrest cannot simply remove the structures and comply with the law. As a result of Krueger's Deed in Trust, there is a cloud on the title of the property. Title needs to be cleared and an eviction process must be completed before the subdivision can force Krueger to remove structures.

Krueger, of course, feels differently. "I have been in court against Gerage five times now, and I am going again," explained Krueger. "He is not going to ruin my life or my rights."

According to Krueger, he had offered to build piers for the association but the group did not have the money. Soon thereafter, the association disbanded and Krueger paid the taxes on the property until five years ago. He now feels that his rights are being violated.

Last week the association re-incorporated and residents are meeting on a regular basis at the Old Channel Lake School.

By law all money made and saved through the transportation fund must remain in that fund. The money from the transportation fund, however, can be borrowed and used in the education fund which can be paid back at a later date.

Nancy Schoen, who is a three-year Antioch veteran bus driver, said that the proposal would be like "robbing Peter to pay Paul." She questioned what happens when the board takes from one hand to pay the other hand and the other hand runs out of money

"We're not only bus drivers, we're mothers to the kids we drive," Schoen said. "We joke; we laugh, and we cry together."

A handful of students were also on hand to protest the board's decision.

"When all the money runs out, what are you going to do next?" asked Theresa Eckard, sophomore class president. "I'll be out of here in two years, but they need their jobs."

Joe Hellstern, who sent four kids through ACHS, said the board should consider making some administrative cuts.

"Years ago, you didn't take care of the infection. You waited until the amputation," Hellstern said.

Bob Matthews, who was hired in the maintenance department 16 years ago after he graduated from ACHS, said he may be offered a job but will not have the same access to Illinois retirement funds.

"They never approached us for alternatives," Matthews said. "We would have paid for our own insurance."

Helen Karczewski, a 21-year veteran hall guard, added that the students came to them with their problems, and the teachers came to them with questions about students.

"We got roots here," she said. "It's a small family."

Prince of Peace gains crown in Fox Valley

Prince of Peace School seventh grade girls basketball team took first-place honors in the Fox Valley Conference tournament.

Team members are: Brook Lorang, Rose Kenny, Mandy Fasano, Sarah Green, Katie Radke, Nicole Cook, Giona Sylvester and Melissa Mitchell.

Stars come from behind, clinch 2d

The Lindenhurst Stars (under 13) clinched second place in the under 14 division at Poplar Creek Sports Centre-Hoffman Estates with a 5-3 come-from-behind win over the Schaumburg North Stars.

The Stars (8-2) played a sluggish first half of soccer, finding themselves trailing 3-1.

Behind the strong play of Susan Gosciniak in goal, the Stars' offense erupted for four goals after the half-time break.

Sarah Rimkus led scores with two and contributing one each were Mandy Fasano, Samie Korbal and Megs Kotlarz.

The Stars have two games remaining indoors before starting their spring outdoor season.

Lightning bolts, douses Blaze

The Lindenhurst Lightning bolted to a big first-half lead in its indoor soccer game against the Waukegan Blaze and finished with an 8-5 victory.

Assistant Coach Jim Lyon chose to shift several positions as many players figured into the scoring.

Jon Mendelke and Quinn Gooch each had two goals, with Mendelke's coming from his defensive position.

Other goals came from Nick Placko, Scott Bender, Peter Gedvilas and Matt Nolan. Assists were credited to Josh Boller, Andy Lyon, Keli Owens, Clint Ludden, Kevin Nelson and Mark Sanderson. Jay Sturt contributed on defense.

These same two teams will meet next week in the Gold Division playoffs. The Lightning's record is now 6-4.

Graham gains third for UWW

Glenn Graham, a graduate of Antioch High, was third in the 55 meter dash for University of Wisconsin-Whitewater men's track team at the UW-Oshkosh meet.

Graham had a time of 6.66.

The Warhawks finished fourth.

Grayslake nine hoping to be on-the-job learners

The good news about a 20-win basketball season and a spot in the county's final four is obvious: Ram fever hit its peak as packed houses cheered the team to elite county status.

The downside is the Rams basketball season pushed the start of baseball season for the hoops stars back.

"We have made some good strides in two weeks. Today (last Saturday) was the first time the basketball players have been out," Coach Troy Harper said.

"The hard thing is basketball overlapping into baseball season," Harper, who is assistant basketball coach, said.

Harper, in his second year, described the Rams as an inexperienced team as the team readied for the season opener. The Rams were 10-14 last season.

pitching staff include right-handers Marc Himmelstein and John Daniels.

Zach Koran, a junior, figures to contribute. If not on the mound, he may also play third base or outfield.

Lucas Bolton and Ryan Johnson are junior lefties as are Jason Ponce and Chris Quinn.

Paul Dorr, a senior, will anchor the catching duties. "He is a good, contact hitter who can hit the ball hard and has a good arm for a catcher," Harper said.

Basketball standouts working out the kinks on the diamond are junior outfielder-catcher Dave Mendralla, who was MVP for the Northwest Suburban Conference in hoops and senior shortstop-outfielder Geoff Sponholtz. Todd Alfred is a senior outfielder-pitcher and second baseman.

play second, pitch or catch.

Seniors looking to step forward are: Tim Dineen at outfield, shortstop or second base; Matt Formica at pitcher or third base; Tim Froehlig in the outfield or at second base; Joel Kos at second base.

The Rams finished third in the Northwest Suburban Conference and were in the first-place race until the final league game. Harper sees Grant as the early favorite.

Weather permitting, Grayslake opens the season March 30 at North Chicago at 3:30 p.m. The Rams home opener is March 31 at 10:30 a.m. with a doubleheader against Waukegan.

Sequoits hope weather is friendlier

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The Antioch High School softball team is hoping the weather will play a friendlier role in this season's play.

According to Coach Judy Smithhisler, last year's poor record was deceiving because the Sequoits had to reschedule many of their home games at their opponents' fields, stripping the team of many home-field advantage opportunities.

She said a combination of last year's spring rains and drainage problems at Warren Polley Fields turned the fields into swamps. Polley Fields, home of the Sequoit softball team, is located on Grass Lake Rd. Kiddle corner from Oakland Grade School.

"When you give me a home field, then we can do something," Smithhisler said. Last year, the Sequoits played only four games at home. The remaining were rescheduled.

"Unless we get some sunny days, Antioch will end up traveling," Smithhisler said.

In addition, the softball program is undergoing a restructuring process. Budgetary deficits forced the high school to eliminate its freshman sports program. A tax referendum to help finance the deficit and other school projects was defeated in the March 15 primary.

"We have to restructure the whole program to get student athletes playing time," Smithhisler said. The varsity team will have a 14-player roster, while the junior varsity team has 22 slots open for players.

Aside from the factors beyond her control, Smithhisler said she is depending on her returning seniors to lead the Sequoits.

In particular, she is looking to seniors Nicole Haenchen and Michele Kilarski to lead the pitching staff. Seniors who will be rounding out the infield include Donna Jadele at second base, Amy Reijnen at first base and Courtney Schaughnessey at third base and catcher.

"Team morale is very good," Smithhisler said. "They are a bunch of hardworking young ladies."

Sequoits hope to improve game-by-game

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

After a disappointing season last year, Antioch High baseball coach Paul Petty is going to follow a game-by-game approach this season.

"Our goal is to win the next game," Petty said. "We can't look past anybody."

Last year the Sequoits went 4-20, and Petty said many of the losses were due to a shabby defense.

"We're making a concerted effort to beef up the defense this year," he said.

Petty will be looking for some guidance, leadership and success out of seniors Casey O'Connell, Dave Jones, Matt DiMartini, and junior Eric Eckenstahler. O'Connell, Jones and Eckenstahler will lead the Sequoit pitching rotation.

"The pitching—that's something I'm looking forward to," Petty said. He also noted that last year's pitching was sound, but their records are deceiving because the defense failed the pitchers in many circumstances.

"Performance wise, the pitching was good. There were not a lot of earned runs," Petty said. "The support of the pitchers wasn't very good, though."

Petty will also be dipping into the sophomore squad this year. He's bringing up second baseman Eric Campbell and outfielders Justin McRae and John Groth.

An expanded varsity team comes in response, in part, to the recent voter-rejected referendum that would have raised taxes to pay for a school budget deficit. The freshman baseball team has been eliminated to cut costs.

"A few more kids on the varsity club will make more room for the sophomore club," said Petty, adding that the absence of a freshman squad will eventually affect the quality of the varsity team.

"It will catch up to us really quick not having a freshman team," Petty said. "That's a lot of kids not playing baseball."

As for this season, Petty believes Libertyville and Stevenson will be the teams to beat. He also said the other teams in the North Suburban Conference will also be competitive.

"There's not a weekend when you can sit back and count a win," Petty said.

He said this year's squad has demonstrated its dedication to improve by practicing everyday at 5:30 a.m., twice on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and Saturday morning.

"These kids are willing to invest their time and hard work to better themselves," Petty said.

Rams softball squad is working hard for success

As the television cable systems like to say, their season never ends.

Paul Missavage may have that same feeling, as he coaches his third sport of 1993-94 school year, but he is still as enthusiastic as the first soccer practice back in August.

"Fielding is the area where we are showing the most promise," Missavage said.

The Rams who ambitiously scheduled a pre-spring break contest, have a junior dominated lineup.

Two senior leaders are Becky Ziolek, an infielder and infielder-outfielder Julie Davis.

Juniors looking to contribute include Julie Duchane, Lisa Nelson, Nicole Moretti, Karen Leckman, Katie Kane, Megan Jeffrey, Tiffany Gutraj and Maria Giannakakis.

Missavage, who coached the girls basketball team to a 10-win season after coaching boys soccer in the fall, is hoping to generate a winning attitude. The Rams softball program had been on hard times, as the team won just four games last year.

Erin Lopez, Amy Artlet and Kathy Meeke may comprise the pitching staff.

"We have a lot of promising young players," the coach commented.

Grayslake opens the NWSC season April 7 at Johnsburg against the defending conference champs.

Upcoming games include an April 8 battle with Grant, the other pre-season favorite, at home.

Missavage's softball background includes playing fastpitch in a western Illinois Sheriff's league.

Missavage will not be alone as a rookie in charge. Leroy Nordlund now guides rival Round Lake.

4-H announces winners

Jessica Broy, 11, and Steven Broy, 10, a sister and brother team from Lake Villa and the Eager Beavers 4-H Club, garnered a Best in Show award for their oral interpretation of the Abbot and Costello routine, "Who's On First?" at the Lake County 4-H Public Presentations Contest held at the Cooperative Extension Auditorium in Grayslake. They were named as Grand Champion in the Oral Interpretation Class. Reserve Champion was Amy Henschen, 11, of Gurnee, of the Warren Hotshots who delivered the Longfellow poem, "Paul Revere's Ride."

Grant baseball looking forward State qualifier Frechette

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Grant High School baseball Coach Fritz Kazlauskis is forecasting a "pretty bright" season this year after last year's dismal showing.

It should be with the return of all-conference pitcher Dan Dunlevy and bat master David Stone, who hit a phenomenal .472 last year as a sophomore.

"Our season is going to be pretty bright," Kazlauskis said. "We have some key people returning from last year."

Kazlauskis will also be looking to Paul Notriano, a junior, to play a little everything as a pitcher, catcher and infielder.

The Bulldogs started last season with high hopes but finished the year with a disappointing 8-14 record.

This year's club will also feature the speedy Christian Falster as well as tri-athlete Shawn Powers.

"He's (Powers) probably the best athlete we have at Grant," Kazlauskis said of Powers, who is also a wrestler and basketball player.

Coach Kazlauskis also has high expectations for promising juniors Jason Morley, Kevin Jepsen and Phil Egleston—all of whom were part of last year's conference champion sophomore squad.

"We want to win the (Northwest Suburban) conference," Kazlauskis said with confidence and high hopes.

Kazlauskis's spring forecast may be bright, but he also knows that Grant must beat the perennially tough Wauconda Bulldogs and the Round Lake Panthers, who took the conference last year.

In addition, Grant opens the year with a quick one-two punch as it faces a tough Waukegan squad in the doubleheader opener and Libertyville in its second game. The Libertyville Wildcats duked it out in the sectional last year. Both teams are not in Grant's conference.

"If we split against non-conference teams, we'll have a good season," Kazlauskis said.

gains honors from Rams

Grayslake Community High School's bowling team honored its first state qualifier in eight years with its most valuable player award.

Senior Carla Frechette became the first bowler since 1986 to advance to the state finals, where she placed 60th. She had a 144 average, tops on the team, and was named captain star, high series (568) and tied for game (223).

"I was happy with my state performance. I wanted to go out and do my best and have fun," Frechette, a Third Lake resident, said.

"Coach (Glenn) Watt kept me focused," Frechette said of the state tournament at Cherry Lanes in Rockford.

Frechette overcame foot surgery in September.

"We had a successful season. The kids never gave up," Coach Watt said.

The Rams won the traveling trophy for the Northwest Suburban Conference by winning two of three matches. There are only three NWSC teams which offer girls bowling.

In addition to Frechette, other seniors who will be missed are Heather Hill, with a 134.1 average and Caryn Krewer, with a 134 average.

Sophomore Kristy Disch was named most spirited and she will bring a 125 average back next year. Nikki Moretti, a junior, tied Frechette with high game honors with a 223.

Freshman Becky Brown, who had a 105.4 average, was named most improved. Classmate Necole Huntington, along with Disch and Moretti were named all-academic for NWSC.

Frechette and Moretti both had multiple 200-plus efforts.

Carla's graduation does not mean Frechette will not be on the Rams bowling roster. Carla's younger sister, sophomore Carolyn, was a member of the junior varsity team.

"I try and help her adjust to her style," Frechette said.

Watt is looking for more numbers to bolster 1994-95 hopes.

Rams' tennis welcomes newcomers

A scene at Grayslake Community High School's boys tennis practice summed up the state of affairs for coach Paul Keller's team.

On one court, two seniors were working on their strokes, getting ready for their chance to take center stage.

On the next court, two freshmen with just as good a chance of contributing were developing their skills.

Paul Roeck and Erick Gardner are back from a Rams team which took home the top trophy.

Playing at the next court were freshmen Josh Shipley and Chris Wiersing.

Gardner is the leading candidate for the top singles spot unless someone beats him out, Keller said.

The Rams were on the court for one of the first days last Monday in preparation for the April 4 season opener at Grant. The home opener is April 5 against Carmel with a NWSC test at home the next day against Round Lake.

Beverly paces Panthers efforts

Mike Beverly earned a fourth-place finish at the state middle school wrestling meet.

Beverly's finish at 85 pounds was the highlight for the Grayslake Middle School state qualifiers.

Beverly opened the state tournament at Olympia High in Normal with a 7-3 win, won by pin in the second round then lost a close 3-1 decision. After an opponent injury defaulted in the consolation round, Beverly lost 2-0 in overtime for third place.

"He is going to be ranked No. 1 in the state next year," Graham Marshall, Grayslake Middle School coach, said. "He has excellent balance and thinks very well on his feet."

Marshall said he was pleased with his team's performance, tied for 34 of 64 teams.

The Panthers finished second in the sectional, qualifying a record-tying 8 to state in Normal.

Lukas Day won his first match at 126 pounds but the sectional champ lost his second. Dale Bowser won by a pin at 145 but was pinned in the second round. He was second at sectional.

"There is a lot of people there and the competition is really hard," Bowser said before state.

Fellow middle school students gave the wrestlers a send-off.

Thunder rolls over the competition

The U-13 Libertyville Thunder walked away with the fall U-14 Friday night girls division at Soccer Enterprises, Highland Park. The team was undefeated in its quest for first place. They effectively defeated: Lindenhurst Power 3-1, 3-1; Deerfield Warriors 9-2, 6-1; Trevians 5-0; Glenview Red Hawks 4-0; and Glenview Stars 1-1; 3-2.

The final game was a highly charged game against the Glenview Stars (second place finisher.) The Thunder was down 1-0 at the half as the Stars scored in the final minutes of the first half.

The Thunder came back in the opening seconds of the second half with a goal by Julia Potesta. Julia scored again after 1 1/2 minutes, putting the Thunder up by 1. The Stars retaliated on a defensive breakdown from the weak side, tying it 2-2.

The Thunder cranked it up a notch and blasted the Stars' goal area with a tremendous explosion of missed shots. Finally, it was Emily Hominick who scored the winning goal on a dummy play by center, Julie Potesta, who forced a nutmeg goal on the Stars goalie.

The Stars were not to be deterred and tried a comeback, however, the Thunder retrieved the ball and maintained it in the Stars half of the field for the remainder of the game continuing to shoot for the glory.

The game ended 3-2 with the Thunder clinching first place. Skill and teamwork provided the keys to success for the Thunder. Goalkeeping duties were shared by Sarah Podolski and Julie Potesta. Other team members included: Nicole Brochu, Meredith Haase; Emily Hominick, Ashlee Landon; Erin Mahoney, Kelly Noonan, Sarah Podolski, Julie Potesta, Stacey Schwerman, Katherine Smith, Rebecca Smith, Mallory Sponburgh and Aimee Tentes. The team was coached by Kay Noonan and Dale Haase.

The Thunder finished the fall U-13 A division of IWSL with a 4-4-2 record. Additional players in the fall included: Megan Brady, Amy Gierthy and Meg Hanley and coach Tom Brady.

Jablonski fired as Round Lake Beach chief

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Round Lake Beach Village Board voted 5-0 to fire Police Chief Richard Jablonski, ending months of speculation on the chief's future with the village.

The board fired him for "cause." Asked to elaborate what cause meant, Mayor Ralph Davis said "cause is cause."

Jablonski in a statement to the press believes he was fired because he didn't help promote Cpl. Sophie who he said Trustees Jerry Mattingly and Larry Shapiro had wanted to become a sergeant.

"I was hired and appointed by the newly elected mayor and trustees. They ran on a platform to reclaim the Beach and promised citizens no political interference within the police department. Within three months two trustees reneged on that promise. Trustees Mattingly and Shapiro began to badger me to promote Cpl. Sophie."

The statement says Mattingly and Shapiro also badgered police and fire commissioners and when Sophie wasn't promoted in September, Jablonski claims his troubles began.

"When Cpl. Sophie was not promoted in September as Trustees Mattingly and Shapiro expected, thus began their drive to discredit me with lies supplied by the Fraternal Order of Police," said Jablonski.

In a letter given to Jablonski dated March 16, Mayor Davis outlined the reasons the village board was going to fire

Jablonski. "Your removal is based on the following charge: Inability to run the Round Lake Beach Police Department due to the internal conflict with the members of the Round Lake Beach Police Department regarding your administrative actions and methodology as evidenced by the no confidence vote of the FOP and the States Attorney's findings."

Davis said he had to make a difficult decision. "Some tough decisions have to be made. Some of the things are harder to make than others."

Trustee Thomas Pfeleger, who didn't attend the meeting, said he suspected problems with Jablonski would occur. Two weeks after Jablonski was hired as chief he had an altercation with Debbie Durkin, building commissioner at the time.

"After that incident, I suspected it wouldn't be long before there was going to be a problem in the department with his rough management style; the way he handled people in a militaristic way," Pfeleger said.

Pfeleger said the trustees decided to have Davis send the letter the Jablonski. He said he didn't attend the meeting because the didn't want to lose seven hours work for something which was decided.

Davis said he will likely interview both lieutenants in the police department, Doug Westermann and James Simoncelli. Simoncelli is the acting police chief and Westermann was given that option soon after Jablonski was put on paid leave by the board.

"I will start as soon as I can. It will be a decision I will have to make," Davis said.

The board had put Jablonski on paid leave in January after allegations were made against him by the police union in a public hearing. The States Attorney's office cleared Jablonski of any criminal wrongdoing.

"I was fired because a few trustees and the FOP want to deprofessionalize the police department and return the department to its old ways. I am a professional law enforcement officer and I will never lower my principles and code of ethics for political expediency," Jablonski said.

Old Mill Creek group eyes strategy for retail district

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The Old Mill Creek planning committee, an arm of the plan commission, met for the initial time Monday, reviewing lots, purpose and land use plan should the village be the next growth area in Lake County.

The stated goal of the committee is to "Conduct special studies relating to the village's development and growth in the Millburn area, as requested by the village plan commission. Submit recommendations to the village plan commission."

"We're a subcommittee of the village plan commission," Chairman Ray Boller said.

"There are a lot of categories in the special retail plan area. We may want to take a look at those categories to see if they fit in with Millburn," member Dorothy Fettinger said.

Village planner John Lemott outlined the village planning districts, including special retail along the present Rte. 45. He mentioned the IDOT plans for a Rte. 45 bypass for the future.

"The commission will handle the more detailed plan. To have a specific plan is more needed now than ever," Lemott said.

He has been told the planning department of IDOT will support the Rte. 45 bypass. "We have to show them more of how it could be done. It is one thing to say it, another thing to see it. IDOT was very sensitive to development along the right-of-way.

"We want to preserve the district, do it in a proper way and secure the right-of-way and measure it out as best we can. One of my main concerns is the development of the non Old Mill Creek parcels without an overall plan. If someone wants to develop, fine, but let us do it as part of a bigger plan," Lemott said.

The special retail district is about 60 acres.

Lemott suggested the retail district may look like Bannock-

Lindenhurst would have retail on the west side of the proposed bypass with residential for the Millburn side.

Lemott said the plan calls for streets to be designed so one could walk from one side of town to another.

Committee members are: Bob Brooks, Bill Musak, Wolfgang Berthhold, Reva Koneles, Ruth White, Fettinger, Bill Revenaugh and Dorothy Melby.

Allendale residents win Pre-Voc. awards

Erik and Jeremy, participants in Allendale's Pre-Vocational Work Experience Program, earned "Employee of the Year" awards.

The presentations were made on February 14, at a thank-you luncheon for pre-vocational students and staff at Allendale.

Pre-Vocational Coordinator Don Portzen welcomed everyone and staff members William Figeas and Willard Davis presented the awards.

Allendale President Robert Holway praised the students for their hard work. Allendale Shelter Club Past President Joan DePree thanked the pre-vocational students for the crafts they made over the years for the Shelter Club's annual Christmas Boutique.

Allendale, located in Lake Villa, treats emotionally disturbed children and their families. An integral part of the program is pre-vocational work experience.

Through pre-voc., students learn basic work skills such as appropriate dress, accepting criticism and cooperating with others. Every able resident 14 years or older works in an on- or off-campus position. Allendale's pre-vocational program was the prototype followed by similar agencies.

Many of the children who come to Allendale were physically or sexually abused or neglected. Others suffer from severe behavior disorders.

Allendale treats more than 650 children and their families annually through long-term and short-term residential care, day education, specialized foster care and out-patient counseling.

County food drive is a tremendous success

Over 350 volunteers worked as a well organized team on March 19 as the culmination of a week long drive to collect food for county food pantries and soup kitchens which have been depleted this winter by unusually high demands for emergency food.

Using a warehouse in Rondout donated by ORC Realty, just over 85,000 pounds of food were sorted by category, boxed, and made ready to distribute to the 24 food pantries and five feeding sites requesting assistance. This feat was accomplished in less than six hours.

The drive was co-sponsored by the Lake County Food Resource Council and the Boy Scouts of America, Northeast Council, the Lake County Life Underwriters Association and Radio station WKRS/WXLC.

When the sorting and boxing of the food was finished, Keith Ridgway, site coordinator, tallied over 42.5 tons of canned fruit, vegetables, meats, pasta and other miscellaneous food items that were designated for food pantries and soup kitchens in Lake County. Of the total tonnage in 1994, the Boy Scouts collected 20 tons of this total. In 1993, 35 tons, or 70,000 pounds of food, was collected by all of the groups.

The food items were collected in a wide variety of places during the week of March 12 to 18 through the combined efforts of 334 Lake County groups and agencies. This number includes 96 schools, 10 public libraries, 18 fire departments, 25 corporations at 26 sites, 109 churches and 85 other organizations.

Following the sorting, the food was immediately distributed to County groups that feed the hungry. This year's recipients were: All Nations Church Pantry, Waukegan; Catholic Charities Food Pantry, Waukegan; Community Help Pantry, Round Lake; COOL Pantry, Waukegan; Ebenezer Baptist Church, Zion; Emmanuel United Methodist Church, North Chicago; Glenn See FOOD DRIVE page B5

Fraud suspect bails out with $100,000

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

The State's Attorney's office is moving carefully on the fraud case involving Libertyville resident Linda Frykholm, accused of swindling more than 50 homebuyers and real estate investors. Although not a licensed real estate agent, she dealt with clients as a representative of the Johnson Mortgage Group.

Criminal charges of forgery and theft were brought against the 45-year-old woman March 24. Assistant State's Attorney Randie Bruno said a warrant was issued Thursday but Frykholm was permitted to turn herself in to the Lake County Sheriff's Department the following day. Her husband Paul was not involved in the illegal transactions and was reported to be quite disturbed at the allegations.

Frykholm's suspected criminal activities include forging real estate documents and illegal contract sales. Additional charges have been filed by those who were bilked. The defendant lives in a palatial home in the heritage district of Libertyville, at 235 W. Cook St.

Frykholm appeared before Judge Michael Fritz Monday, who ordered her held on a $1 million bond. She faces six indictments that include eight charges for forgery and eight for theft. Her attorney, Barry Boches, objected to the high amount, saying his client was not accused of a violent crime. Ironically, the bond amount is almost as large as the $1.1 million she is accused of taking from investors and home buyers.

Frykholm was released after the $100,000 bond was posted Tuesday. She is scheduled to come before Judge Henry J. May 16.

So far, more than 50 people have come forward, many of them may lose their property because of the illegal deals. It is expected that as more details surface, more criminal as well as civil charges will be leveled against the woman.

A similar case in the late 1980s involved Woody Kelly, an Antioch businessman who bilked Lake County investors out of hundreds of thousands of dollars and disappeared after going out in his boat on Lake Michigan. A judge ruled earlier this year that his family could not collect life insurance entitlements in his alleged death. Several Lake County law enforcement officials and other have testified that they have seen Kelly alive since his disappearance.

Salvi endorses Uriate for GOP chairman

State Rep. Al Salvi (R-Wauconda) announced his endorsement of Patricia Uriate for Lake County Republican Chairman to replace outgoing Chairman Robert Churchill.

"I think she would be wonderful for the party," Salvi said. "I think she is just what we need."

Salvi has known Uriate, Libertyville Township Republican Chairman, from the time he was one of her precinct committeemen from 1988-'92. He has since gone on to become a Fremont Township Committeemen as well as a State Representative in District 52.

"The vast majority of the committeemen in western Lake County have indicated to me that they are going to support her," he said.

He said one of her greatest qualities was to bring two different sides of the republican party together.

"She is able to put opposite sides together," he said. "That is her biggest quality."

He said he holds the highest respect for both Churchill and Dr. John E. Schulien, Lake County Board Dist. 13 representative, but feels Uriate as the right person for the job.

"This is not against anyone," Salvi said of his endorsement. "This is for someone who I really believe (can do the job)."

The Lake County Republican Convention is set for March 28.

SEDOL asking members to approve $3.4 million facility

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Officials of the Special Education District of Lake County had their fingers crossed, hoping a $3.4 million proposal to build a new facility would be approved by member district representatives.

SEDOL Superintendent Dr. John Anderson said he was confident the proposal would be approved at the governing board's meeting the evening of March 23, when the 37 school district representatives were scheduled to meet.

The number one item on the agenda was to vote on either approving or denying the authorization to issue $3.4 million in bonds to build a 30,000 square-foot facility to alleviate overcrowding at two current Libertyville sites used for child testing.

"I am very optimistic," Anderson said. "We seem to have the support." He said a number of district's have expressed support. A small contingent have expressed support for the program, although they cannot afford to pay for the building.

With an annual lease bill of $112,000, Anderson said they were looking forward to using those dollars for student programs.

He said the building was "very much needed."

The building would be built on land near the Laremont Building on Gages Lake Road, half-way between Route 45 and Hunt Club Road in unincorporated Wildwood.

While SEDOL will sell the bonds itself, they will be paid off by the districts, with each one paying a portion based on its Equalized Assessed Valuations.

If at least 19 of the 37 representatives approve to issue bonds, Alice A. Stone, SEDOL director of business affairs, said construction would begin in either late June or early July this year, and be completed by the fall of 1995.

Anderson said there is not a school district among the SEDOL members that does not support the programs, but due to the tax cap and increasing student enrollments, they are unsure if they will be able to pay for the facility.

AT A GLANCE

Trilogy '94 helps students

WAUCONDA—The Wauconda Boosters is holding its annual antique, collectibles and arts and crafts show to raise money for Wauconda Unit District 118 schools. Started in 1989, Trilogy has been a success each year, allowing the boosters to donate the show profits in the form of scholarships for students in the Wauconda Middle and High schools, lights for the athletic field and microphones for use by the drama club. Trilogy '94 will be held from March 25 through March 27, utilizing the entire high school with more than 150 dealers showing and selling their wares. Admission to the show is $2, with parking free. The event will take place at Wauconda High School, 555 N. Main St., on March 25 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., March 26 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and March 27 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. No strollers are allowed. For more information, call 526-3876.

Police chief sends message

WADSWORTH—After several incidents, the head of the Johnsburg Police Department has stated his convictions on the mixture of youths and alcohol. "We definitely do not want a recurrence of what happened in Wadsworth," explained the chief. On March 13 drinking was a contributing factor in a car crash which killed 37-year-old Rose Johnson from Round Lake Beach, and left two others hospitalized. "We have to make sure the kids in our community are not out drinking," said Chief Ken Rydberg. With attempts "to get a message out to the kids," Rydberg explained about arrests made in which 11 minors and one adult were charged in a separate incident in McHenry.

Board fires teachers

ROUND LAKE—The school board of District 116 has fired 10 non-tenured teachers the administration felt shouldn't be retained. The decision was made to discharge the teachers outright rather than putting them on a "reduction in force" list of teachers who may or may not be kept on.

SRACLC membership rejected

HAWTHORN WOODS—In a difficult decision, the Village of Hawthorn Woods chose not to allocate funds toward the Special Recreation Association of Central Lake County. SRACLC provides year-round recreation opportunities for individuals with disabilities. The program resembles that of a park district or recreation department by offering special events, weekly programs, day camp and other leisure activities for people with disabilities. The Mundelein Park and Recreation District, Vernon Hills Park District, Village of Lake Zurich and Village of Libertyville are members of SRACLC. Hawthorn Woods membership would cost $19,682. Cost for non-member families to participate in the program would be $750.

Dist. 46 ponders vote choices

GRAYSLAKE—Faced with what some call a crisis situation, Grayslake Dist. 46 board of education members began to analyze the fallout of two failed referenda issues. The main issues for the capacity crowd at the Grayslake Middle School Library continue to be the attendance centers, which was suggested as a possibility if the March 15 referenda failed, which both did.

CLC expands campus

WAUKEGAN—Plans are moving along for the expansion of the College of Lake County Lakeshore campus. The CLC board approved the purchase of the Globe Department Store building at 33 N. Genesee St.

March 9. The Waukegan City Council agreed to the sale March 15. The college will purchase the property for $185,000 and will spend at least $2 million more to remodel and repair the building. The addition will double the number of classrooms at the campus and add two computer labs, a science lab, a child care center, a bookstore and a library.

Fire station progress update

GURNEE—Gurnee Village board members heard an update on planning for the second fire station, and some trustees had questions for station planners. The voter-approved fire station will be one-story with a mezzanine section on two acres west of Hunt Club Road, adjacent to residential development and Target.

Circus to stop in Vernon Hills

VERNON HILLS—The Circus is coming to town! The Circus is coming to town! A full-fledged three-ring circus with trapeze artists, high wire tricks and, of course, elephants will be coming to Vernon Hills June 18 for two performances. There will also be an exotic petting zoo with zebras, lions and llamas. Sponsored by the Vernon Hills Lions Club, the Texas-based King Royal Circus will be putting up their tent at Century Park for the village's first old-fashioned circus.

Fraud suspect posts bond

LIBERTYVILLE—Linda Frykholm, accused of swindling more than 50 homebuyers and real estate investors of more than $1 million, posted $100,000 bond Tuesday and walked out of the Lake County Jail. She was indicted Monday on eight counts of theft and eight counts of forgery. Her suspected criminal activities include forging real estate documents and illegal contract sales. Her trial is scheduled for May 16.

Golf course opens clubhouse

MUNDELEIN—Steeple Chase Golf Club, located at 200 N. La Vista Dr., will unveil its new clubhouse April 1. Construction is nearly completed on the 3,500-foot structure which will contain a grill room overlooking the 18th green and a pro shop. The course opened last spring using a trailer as their only building and was ranked one of the top 10 in the Chicagoland suburban area.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trust's assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

In addition, the Center for Independent Living and the Staben Center, both in Waukegan, also received food from the drive.

A number of cash donations were received, which will ultimately be used to purchase more food for the pantries and soup kitchens when the supplies from the food drive are exhausted.

Food drive Chairman, Attorney Ann Conroy, commented that she was "extremely pleased to see so many volunteers" and was "very impressed with the thousands of people who donated and the companies which participated." She added that "It was very interesting to be there and see all the activity as people dug into the sorting as if it was a contest."

In an effort to be as effective as possible, even the bags were recycled—most went to pantries, but some went to churches to be used for rummage sales.

Not only did the volunteers return home feeling happy with the contribution they had made to help solve a county-wide problem, each of them also carried a large can of popcorn home as a "Thank you" donated by the Popcorn Factory of Rondout.

The Board of Lake County Food Resource Council wishes to thank all those dedicated county residents who gave so unselfishly of their time and resources to make the drive such a success. Those wishing to further the efforts of the Food Resource Council may mail their tax deductible donations to the Food Resource Council at P.O. Box 685, Grayslake, IL 60030.

Judge cites two for heroism

Chief Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit, John R. Goshgarian, recognized two individuals for heroic and unselfish actions on March 16 at the Hulse Juvenile Complex in saving the life of a 51 year old diabetic woman who collapsed and stopped breathing. Cited were long time Juvenile Court Advocate Ray Barnes and Lake County Sheriff's Deputy Jonathon Cashmore.

When the woman stopped breathing and no pulse could be found, Cashmore initiated chest compressions and Barnes began mouth to mouth resuscitation until the Waukegan Fire Department arrived and the woman was transported to a local hospital. Both men were credited with saving her life.

Both men were presented plaques commemorating their actions by Judge Goshgarian who also praised them for their professionalism in handling the emergency.

Ray Barnes, a resident of Waukegan, is a long time Juvenile Court Advocate and a former Intensive Adult Probation Officer as well as Waukegan Paramedic. Deputy Jonathon Cashmore has been with the Lake County Sheriff's Department since 1988 and is a resident of Beach Park.

BB/BS expresses need for volunteers

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County has children and youth waiting for a big brother or sister, but not enough adults available.

This is especially true in two areas according to Harry Nicol, executive director. "We need men willing to be matched with boys, aged 5 through 14, who come from single parent homes from throughout Lake County. We also need women to match with teens, all under 18, who are already parents, are pregnant or are at risk of pregnancy," said Nicol. Right now there are 38 boys waiting for a big brother or couple and only seven men available. There are 10 young women in the Pregnant/Single Parenting Program waiting for a match and only four volunteers available.

"For example, on our waiting list is a fifth grade boy from a southern Lake County suburb, who is the oldest of three children. He is angry with his mom because he holds her responsible for his dad leaving. He hasn't seen his father for two to three years. Mom has been able to keep the family home because her father pays the mortgage. She receives no child support and is on public aid. She generates some income herself through a home based business. She has two kids in school and one still at home. The son for whom she has requested a Big Brother does well in school, but is socially isolated, has no friends, gets teased a lot, and is increasingly hostile at home with mom and siblings. He desperately needs a Big Brother for friendship and activities.

"We also have a 16 year old high school student, the mother of a 5-month old infant. She lives in a one bedroom, low income apartment with her grandmother. She is an attractive young woman, neatly dressed and well groomed. During the in-home interview with our caseworker she brought the baby out of the bedroom and handed him to the caseworker to hold. She seemed awkward and inexperienced with the baby. She wants a Big Sister because she needs someone to talk to. She'd like a Big Sister who is talkative, fun to be with, a good listener, and understanding. She imagines herself window shopping, talking, going to movies, and sitting at home and watching movies with her Big Sister."

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County provides Big Brothers and Sisters to boys and girls who are 5 through 14 from single parent homes and to young women, 18 and under, who are either pregnant, parents, or at risk of becoming pregnant. The "Bigs" as they are called serve as friends, companions, mentors and role models to their "Littles." The Bigs are screened, trained and supervised by caseworkers from Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County.

Bigs must live or work in Lake County and be willing to give an average of three to five hours per week for a minimum of one year. Besides those requirements the Big need to be willing to share themselves with a young person. "almost always the program is a wonderful experience for both Bigs and Littles," according to Nicol.

"Too often all kinds of negative outcomes cluster around children from single parent homes and teen parents. These outcomes include school failures and dropout, social isolations, substance abuse, poverty, child abuse, serious emotional problems. Our program aims to head off these negative outcomes by providing a positive adult role model and friend to encourage and support each child."

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County would like to hear from potential volunteers. Orientations for prospective Bigs are held the first Tuesday of each month and at other times as needed. A recently formed Speakers Bureau will come to speak to parents groups, church groups, service clubs to bring more information about the program and the need for Big Brothers and Sisters.

Call 360-0770 for further information about volunteering or to arrange for a speaker for your group.

PET of the Week

Joey

Joey needs a home to call his own

Joey is a silky coated black and white spaniel/collie mix male. Almost 3-years-old, Joey came to Orphans of the Storm as a 6-month-old puppy, but was overlooked.

Joey has grown up here without a home or family to call his own. Yet Joey is as sweet, as he is desperate for love. When Joey is taken out of his cage, he paces restlessly, unable to grasp that he's no longer in a cage. Understandable, as Joey's whole world has been a concrete and steel cage.

Joey is gentle and smart. Orphans of the Storm believes if Joey is adopted, he will learn quickly and love his owners with a devotion that knows no bounds. Joey would be perfect for someone who is home most of the time and can give Joey a safe, stable home and the love he's never had. Please help a forgotten dog to finally discover joy. Joey's been at Orphans too long and lonely years in Cage No. 65.

Pets are available for a $55 donation which includes free spay/neuter, collar, leash, follow up care, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for further information.

Power House represents Illinois in national energy competition

The Power House has been selected to represent Illinois in a national competition on energy conservation and efficiency sponsored by the U.S. Dept. of Energy.

Commonwealth Edison has developed The Power House into one of the premier energy education centers in the country, with more than 50 hands-on exhibits that help us better understand the basic principals of energy.

The Illinois Department of Energy and Natural Resources submitted The Power House as an entry in the national competition because of its innovative ideas in teaching the past, present and future uses of energy.

"The Power House is an education center that deals with many facets of energy and in this way we allow our visitors to determine the pros and cons of various energy sources," said Mike Radziewicz, Energy Education Administrator for The Power House.

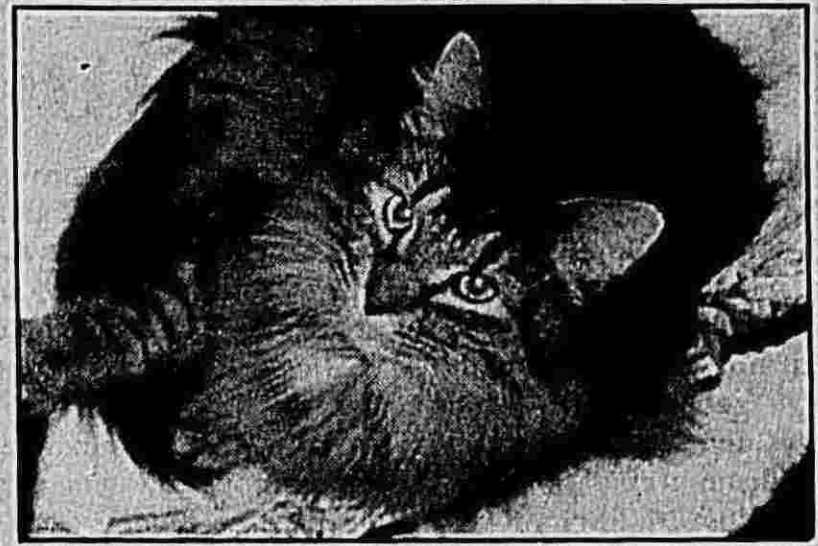

Since its grand opening more than a year ago, The Power House has hosted more than 85,000 visitors and has plans that are even more ambitious for the coming year. Among the new exhibits that will soon be on display is the Foucault pendulum, which will change direction with the rotation of the earth.

All the pipes and ducts in The Power House have been labeled to show the transmission of energy through The Power House, making the building itself an exhibit.

In keeping with the energy conservation initiatives that have made The Power House so popular will be the opening of The Good Cents House with eight exhibits on how to conserve energy in the home.

The Power House has already garnered recognition through the Partner in Excellence award from the Edison Electric Institute and the Illinois Energy Award from the Department of Energy and Natural Resources in 1993.

ENERGY GUIDE ENERGY GUIDE ENERGY GUIDE

Sealing up an energy efficient home

When homeowners begin a remodeling project, they can't wait to choose the larger components like wood, tile, insulation, windows and doors. They know that it's important to buy high quality products for a home that is energy efficient, attractive and durable.

But while these elements are important, there's another that literally holds the whole project together and which is often neglected: The sealant or caulking compound. The proper sealant selection can contribute hundreds of dollars in savings to your household budget.

Caulking is used to seal a variety of joints or cracks created in the building or remodeling process. Sealants can join two unlike materials such as a brick wall and a vinyl window frame, or seal a crack between the same materials like the wooden frame around windows or doors. While sealants were once only a part of the exterior weather barrier, they're now used much more extensively in the home's interior to keep conditioned air from escaping.

Homeowners commonly use caulk for sealing:

- Cracks around doors and windows to prevent air and water leaks.
- Leaks in gutters, skylights and downspouts.
- The interior of your home; around window and door casings, baseboard moldings, in the bath and kitchen area, around bathtubs, toilet tanks, shower doors and vanity tops.
- Between masonry steps, porches, patios and the main body of the house.
- At all corners formed by siding.
- Between underside of eaves and gable molding.
- Beneath window sills at siding.
- Beneath threshold plates on exterior doors.
- Where the chimney meets the roof shingles.

Caulking compound is available in several basic types such as silicone, polyurethane, polysulfides, acrylic—solvent base, acrylic—water based, oleoresinous—oil based, and bituminous—asphalt base.

All of these basic types have different formulations, which offers advantages for specific applications. Silicone, polyurethane, polysulfides and acrylics are the longest lasting compounds and tend to adhere well to most surfaces.

Polyurethane, polysulfide, butyl, acrylic—both water and solvent based, and oil-based are paintable. Some silicones are not paintable, and those that are don't accept paint as well as other types.

Once the correct product is chosen, use a knife or putty knife to completely remove any old caulk. In some cases sandpaper or a wire brush may be needed. Wipe all joints with a clean, dry cloth to be sure that they are free of water, dirt, grease, oil or any other chemical.

Cut the top of the cartridge nozzle at an angle with a sharp knife or scissors. Keeping in mind that the size of the opening will reflect the size of the bead of sealant that will be produced, start small and cut more as needed.

Place the cartridge into a standard caulking gun. Start at the top or end of a joint, holding the nozzle at a 45 degree angle slanted in the direction of movement. While pulling slowly and steadily down or across the joint, apply pressure to the handle of the caulking gun to apply the sealant. Jerky movements or a start-and-stop motion could cause the sealant to stretch too thin or to bunch up. If you want the caulk to be smooth, simply run a wet, soapy tooling stick or spoon along the caulking line to remove any excess sealant and smooth out lines.

Sealant is best used with joints that are one-half inch or less in depth. If it's larger, the crack should be filled with backing material, such as rope, backer rod or another substance first. This will ensure that the sealant doesn't have three-point contact (each side and bottom) and will be able to expand and contract freely.

Some Shocking Information You Should Know.

A downed power line can kill if it's live. And that's just the problem. You can't always tell if it's live. Sometimes it simply lies there, still. Even worse, it can be hidden under a fallen tree or be touching a neighboring fence, you just don't know.

You cannot afford the risk of finding out. A downed power line can carry 12,500 volts of electricity. So keep away. If you suspect you have a downed line, report it to Commonwealth Edison at 1-800-Edison-1. (1-800-334-7661)

Get your seat now for 1996 primary

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Campaigning for the next election in Lake County already has begun.

We're not talking about the November general election. For county residents, the BIG one is the Republican primary in 1996.

That's when 16 County Board seats will be up for reelection, including Boss Bob Depke, the most powerful county politician within memory.

This year's March GOP primary was only a teaser compared to what will unfold in two years.

Voting may have proved that there's still life in the open space movement, but it also was a wake up call for builders and developers who can be expected to pour gushers of money into the '96 fray.

Jack Martin probably is looking for more powerful computers already to get ready.

PLANNING AHEAD—Carol Calabresa, victorious in a race for a County Board nomination, took only a few days to decide whether she'll go for the chairman's seat when the board reorganize in December. She's going!

Right now, Calabresa is planning ahead with the confidence of five consecutive election wins—"against odds and without party support," adds the feisty Republican. Calabresa has acquired the reputation of a "giant killer."

TRAVEL TIPS—Unless your idea of a gourmet dinner is an inner tube slathered with grease, take a pass on smoked mullet the next time you're in Weekie Wachie, Fla.

Smoked mullet, a Gulf Coast favorite, was a featured culinary attraction at the first annual Weekie Wachie Swamp Festival. While the food might have been suspect (swamp cabbage was another offering), the country music was great and the king and queen, a couple of youngsters closing in on 80, were delightful.

Down the road at Dunedin, home of the world champion Toronto Blue Jays, the beverage of choice at spring training Private bus bids wave of future?

There are strong indicators that privatization is the wave of the future to bring about greater efficiency and reduce costs in the operation of public schools.

Officials of three Lake County school districts are taking a hard look at hiring private bus companies to provide transportation. Their actions are being watched closely by neighboring districts, even applauded in some cases.

Board members at Antioch High, Round Lake Unit and Woodland Elementary District, Gages Lake, want to find out whether contracting with a private firm will reduce costs. Most certainly, turning over transportation to a private company will reduce headaches for administrators and eliminate one of the most cumbersome bureaucracies in public education.

Round Lake already has taken the step to issue 28 drivers termination notices while bids are sought. Antioch Supt. Robert Schley has voiced publicly the possibility that drivers might be employed by a private concern, but they likely would work for less wages.

So it goes. As we have noted in the past, there are other areas of school operation that lend themselves to privatization. Wouldn't it be something if teachers in the future only had to deal with the ABC's?

COMMENTARY

Recruits appreciate families

W.O. KING

Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, would like to thank you, our friendly and supportive neighbors in Lake County.

Your strong support for the trainees here made possible the largest ever Adopt-A-Sailor program. Volunteering in unprecedented numbers to open your homes to trainees on Thanksgiving and Christmas led to over 4,300 trainees spending one or both of these holidays in a family environment.

The value of this program cannot be overstated as it contributes directly to the morale and welfare of our trainees, many of whom are experiencing their first lengthy time away from home, their first holiday period away from their families and their first experience with the kind of discipline and structure the military provides.

In undergoing this highly stressful transition from civilian to sailor, the holidays can often be very traumatic. Your kindness and caring in opening your homes made an impact that clearly lifted their spirits. All comments have been positive and appreciative, with the only regret being that they didn't have enough time to spend with you.

The trainees who participated were all amazed and thankful that they were able to go into your homes as strangers and leave as "family." Many of their own families have contacted us expressing their gratitude for taking such good care of their sons over the holidays.

For 25 years, this community has opened its hearts and doors to our newest sailors. It is greatly appreciated and is good not only for the trainees, but for the community and the Navy at Great Lakes as well.

My personal thanks to each of you for your heartfelt concern and support of our trainees. In this time of rapid change in the Navy, it is very reassuring to know that the community stands ready to support us in any endeavor. We, the staff and trainees of Recruit Training Command, look forward to growing both as a command and in our relationship with you, the community.

Editor's note: Capt. W.O. King Jr. is commanding officer of the Recruit Training Command at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Against airport

Editor:

I see no reason for the Village of Round Lake Park to even consider purchase of an airport, let alone one the owner is not trying to sell.

Our village has spent many of our tax dollars on this project plus many hours. We do not need an airport as a lure for business or private air traffic.

Why not let the owner of Campbell Airport make it bigger if he wants to lure more air traffic?

Trustee June Bessert seems to be the only village board member with any sense in this matter.

Unsportsmanship- like conduct

Editor:

I was born and raised in Indiana and attended high school and college there. I, like most all current and former residents, have perennial basketball fever. High school basketball in Illinois isn't quite the same (no class system in Ind.) so when the fever hits I travel to Indiana, stay with relatives (my grandfather, who died recently, had held season tickets at Muncie Central High since 1929!) and absorb a weekend of Hoosier Hysteria.

My most recent visit to Indiana was to witness the 150th meeting of fifth ranked Muncie Central and eighteenth-ranked New Castle at Muncie. With a crowd of 5,000 on hand the game lived up to its billing and the fans were treated to a close, exciting game. At no time during this close contest of rivals did I hear or see any of the 5,000 in attendance behave in a rude, unsportsmanlike manner.

This past Wednesday I traveled to see our Round Lake team compete in the regional tournament against Libertyville, a school twice our size and never on our regular season schedule. Our RL team, against all odds, played their hearts out eventually losing the game in overtime. This game was the closest I have felt to Indiana basketball since moving to Illinois 13 years ago. Unfortunately the experience was marred by the conduct of the Libertyville students. Chanting our players by number they referred to female anatomy, sexual preference and sex acts—they are the worst fans I have seen in my 30+ years. Sadly, Libertyville officials did nothing to stop it.

Panther Pride, an undocumented but understood code of honor here in Round Lake, was evident this night as Round Lake fans did nothing to validate or dignify the Libertyville student's behavior.

The Round Lake men's basketball team may have lost the game but emerged as winners in every other sense of the word. Thanks, guys, for making this former Hoosier proud to be from Round Lake.

As for Libertyville, you may have won the game but you have lost something else much more important and you would serve yourselves well to try and get it back.

PARTY LINES

GOP shoot out rests on Depke strength

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers column of public opinion, is prepared from staff reports.

The Republican convention Monday, March 28, where newly elected precinct committee captains will elect a new chairman and other party officers, could turn out to be a shoot out between GOP independents and followers of County Board boss Bob Depke.

Pat Uriarti, the highly respected Libertyville Township Republican chairman, is vowing to lead the charge for party leadership pledged to bring about more involvement of precinct committeepersons in party affairs.

"Committeemen are tired of being left out and overlooked. Endorsements are made by insiders at an executive committee meeting and announced as a Republican Central Committee decision. Party leadership just doesn't respect the committeemen," Uriarti declared.

The no-nonsense party worker described herself as an "organization person" as opposed to an "issues person." Uriarti said she's not interested in running for public office. "I'm getting tremendous support," reported Uriarti, whose chief opposition is expected to be Dr. John Schullen, also of Libertyville, who has been identified as part of the Depke camp since elected to the County Board two years ago.

One prospective chairman aspirant, Shawn Depke, was eliminated when voters replaced him as a Warren Township committeeman. Uriarti said that she was told Shawn's loss was attributed to a protest of his father's go go growth policies. "I can't say that I'm not sorry to see him out of the picture," Uriarti admitted with customary candor.

Matter of choice—Bob Neal, a former Lake County Republican chairman, is reported to have stated that he's open to a draft to succeed Bob Churchill, who is not seeking a third term. Making the rounds is the joke that Neal may be referring Neal more to Miller's Genuine or Old Style than the non-paid party post.

Public forum—Congressman John Porter (R-10th) didn't take more than a few days off to catch his breath after the primary election before getting back to work. Porter will hold the third of his 1994 public forums Saturday, March 26, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Waukegan Public Library, 128 N. County St. Interesting footnote: a sign language interpreter will be present for the benefit of the hearing-impaired.

Getting support—Frequent political commentator and sometimes candidate, Ray Lacroix, has an unsuspected supporter for his suggestion to drop the controversial Yorkhouse Rd. extension for Rte. 41 in favor of extending Sunset Ave.

No less than State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) sent along Lacroix's suggestion to County Board Chairman Bob Depke, noting that the Sunset Ave. plan is "pretty sensible." Geo-Karis asked Depke to have county engineers look at the proposal.

Lacroix reasons that the Sunset route would save taxpayers millions as opposed to condemning right-of-way for Yorkhouse Rd., cutting scores of mature trees and violating a $6 million wetland restoration project.

Besides, Lacroix noted with tongue in cheek, extending Sunset would more directly benefit citizens in Depke's own district.

Wondering—More than a few people are wondering whether the rather mysterious departure of Gurnee Police John Ward was the result of a personality conflict or one of those "tip of the iceberg" things. Maybe like Whitewatergate? Anyway, no one's talking.

Future star—Businessman Tom Lachner of Lake Bluff is certain to be a future Republican star after winning a nomination for state representative by defeating popular Mary Beattie of Lake Forest, long a party stalwart who was making her first race for elective office. Beattie is currently a County Board member by appointment.

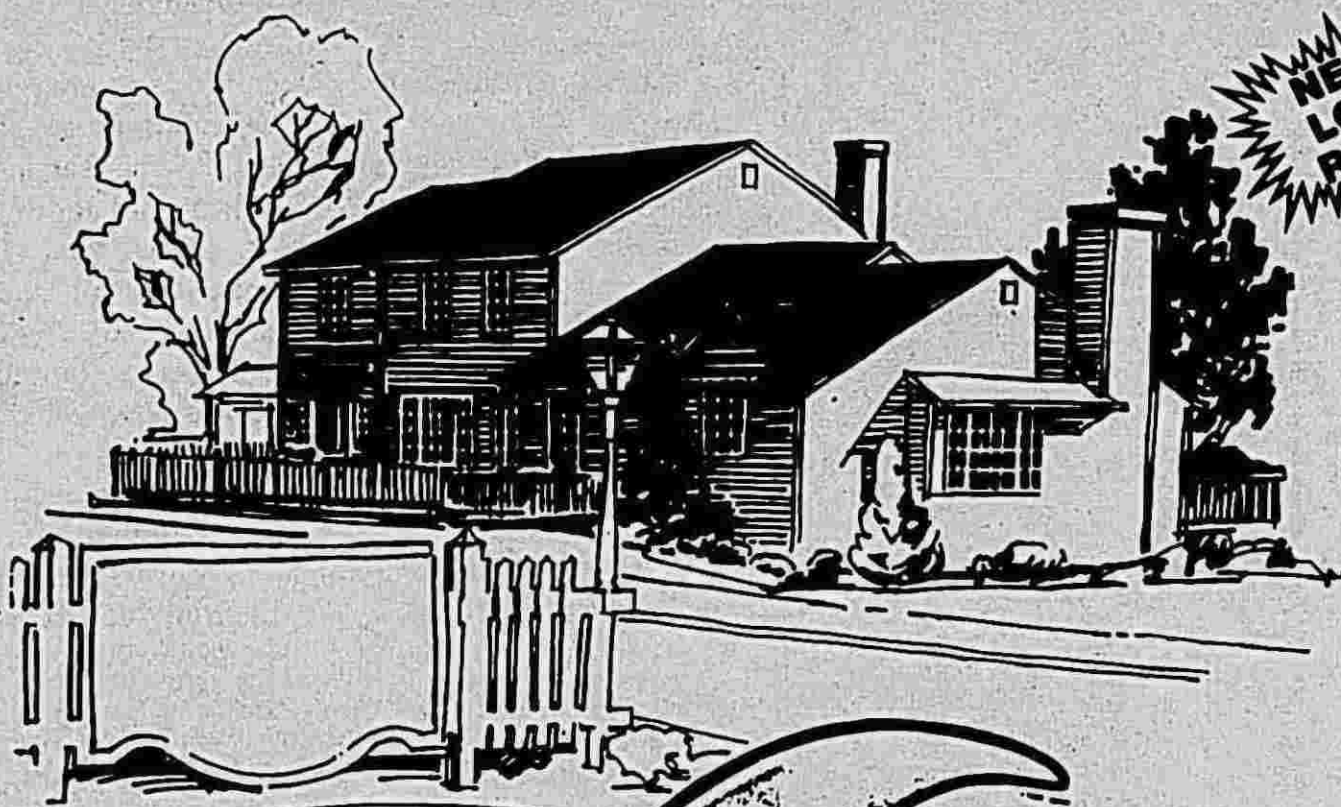

Voters were attracted by Lachner's youth, his enthusiasm and his business-like solutions to state problems, particularly funding education. The fact that he's not an attorney didn't hurt a bit. Lachner tallied 51.9 percent of the vote.

Being a "good soldier" probably hurt Beattie's nomination chances. Beattie's appointment to the County Board was advanced by Republicans looking for a strong independent voice as opposed to Mona Strenger, who sought to replace her late husband, Don, a long-time ally of powerful Chairman Bob Depke. Party Lines was told that Strenger loyalists voted for Lachner to punish Beattie.

Good start—The newly formed Lake County Conservation Alliance fared fairly well in its initial foray into the field of candidate endorsements. A non-partisan organization, LCCA backed winners for County Board nominations in Judy Martini (Dist. 1, Antioch), Diana O'Kelly (Dist. 10, Fremont Township), and Carol Calabrese (Dist. 15, Libertyville). LCCA's losers were Millie Corder (Dist. 2, Newport Township), and Bobbie O'Reilly (Dist. 18, south central).

Enjoy instant, no-work vegetables gardens

Want to enjoy your own fresh garden produce, but haven't got the time or space for a conventional garden? Take a look around the yard and chances are you'll see places where you can plug in started vegetable transplants—in that flower border for instance! Garden staples like tomatoes, peppers, cabbage and cauliflower are decorative, as well as delicious, and make natural growing companions for flowers. Vegetable gardening this way is fast and simple.

•Okay to start late in the season: Except in very cold climates, you can plug in many vegetables transplants right up until mid-summer and have a reasonable expectation of a crop before frost. Hot-weather crops like tomatoes and peppers, in fact, will be stunted if they're planted out too early. The trick is to look for early-maturing varieties and buy the biggest, sturdiest transplants you can find. Many garden centers now offer large plants in one-gallon containers, often already starting to bear fruit.

•Good varieties to try: Vegetables for the flower border should have a compact, bush-like growth habit. You don't want vines snaking across the lawn. Tomatoes to look for include early-maturing "Bush Beefsteak" and "Celebrity." Good sweep peppers to try are "California Wonder" and "Stokes Early Hybrid." You can grow hot peppers like jalapenos for salsa, too.

•Where and how to plant: Pick areas that get full sun for at least six hours per day. Foundation walls facing south are great because they offer protection and reflected warmth. Clear a space and apply a weed preventer with plant food. Scratch it into the soil surface then plug in your transplant. Plant tomatoes (especially leggy, late-season transplants) deep, right up to the first set of leaves. Then water thoroughly. Four weeks later, make a second application of plant food. Two applications will prevent competition from new weeds for three months, feed plants and save lots of garden labor. When the product is through working, it biodegrades.

•Water: Letting your sprinkler do the work is fine, but don't water too close to sundown. Vegetable plants should go to bed dry to avoid disease and pest problems. Better still, lay down lengths of soaker hose or driplines, which are available in kits for any size garden.

•Enjoying the harvest: With a little practice, you can learn to grow what you enjoy eating in combination flower and vegetable gardens. Many flowers, including marigolds and nasturtiums, are edible and make excellent companion plants for vegetables.

If you get started very late and end up with a bumper crop of green tomatoes, don't despair. If they're not too green, tomatoes will ripen in a cool, dark spot like the basement—not on a sunny windowsill! Or use them green in recipes for piccalilli, mincemeat or green tomato pie.

Magic City roller skating rink opens to a huge crowd

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Phase one of Magic City opened up last week to a huge crowd. Located two miles east of Gurnee Mills on Grand Avenue, this new roller skating rink has it all.

The rink, first of all, is huge. Magic City has an excellent sound system allowing skaters to move to all different types of music. If you like special effects, Magic City is for you. There is a crystal ball in the center of the rink along with smoke machines and flashing lights. Video games line the walls, and, when the project is finished, they expect to have even more. When Magic City is completed, there will also be a restaurant and an indoor sports arena.

Last Friday was the grand opening of Magic City. On Sunday they had a grand opening party that was wall-to-wall families. Visitors were treated to artistic skating shows, magic shows, food, drink, and, of course, skating.

The hours of Magic City are a bit complicated. On Mondays, it is open from 4 to 8 p.m.; Tuesday, 4 p.m. to 1 a.m.; Wednesday, from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m.; Thursday, from 3:30 to 10 p.m.; Friday, from 8:30 p.m. to 2 a.m.; Saturday, from 8:30 to 2 a.m.; and Sunday, from noon to midnight.

Magic City offers skating lessons from beginners to intermediate, birthday party packages, special spring vacation sessions, and family skate on Sundays. Magic City will even tailor a package for political fund raisers.

Family skating is every Sunday afternoon. Best of all, there are three sessions, noon to 2 p.m., 1:30 to 3:30, and 3 to 5 p.m. The cost is $4 per child and parents skate free.

A 10-child birthday package is only $89.95 and includes the celebration room, decorations that include party hats, plates, cups, napkins, balloons, admission, skating, skate rental, soft drinks, hot dogs, chips, and tasty pizza.

Challenged couple seeks to help others

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

When Dick and Phyllis Riley attend a political event in town, they do it with heart and soul.

The couple doesn't stop there. They put everything into volunteering in numerous areas in Wauconda/Island Lake including food pantries, churches, nursing homes, polling places and other civic organizations.

Dick and Phyllis may seem like an average couple with a lot of time on their hands. Actually they're senior citizens. But not just any senior citizens—they have disabilities.

In what couldn't be a better match, Dick and Phyllis were married in 1974. When they met, Dick had polio, and Phyllis had a partial paralysis due to a blood clot in her brain, both childhood infirmities.

Besides being understanding of each other's inabilities, the couple said they were able to help one another right off the bat.

"If there's a will, there's a way. That's what I see with Dick every day," said Phyllis.

Phyllis, 61, can get around by walking, but her husband can't. Yet that doesn't keep him down. Fifty-nine-year-old Dick goes about town just fine on his special three-wheeled, battery-powered bike, and often Phyllis will walk alongside him.

Dick gave an example of how he rode his bike to the Wauconda Baptist Church on Bonner Road one day to do some volunteer work. Phyllis of course, was alongside him all the way—nearly a 4-mile hike in one direction.

On the way they stopped off at the library, and then on to McDonald's for lunch. The total of the couple's journey was 8 miles that day, yet it didn't seem to bother them in the least. "I can usually go about 30 miles a day on my bike when it's charged up," said Dick.

The longtime residents stick to the simple belief that if you rest, you rust. The Riley's aren't the type that like people feeling sorry for them. "If you've got a way to do it," explained Phyllis, "you can do it."

For the entire day, Dick volunteered his time like he does with every election, at the voting polls. He said he either becomes voting judge for the day, or voting registrar. And he loves it.

"My wife and I are pretty involved in politics," said the noted Republican. The two make their way to every Republican function they can, and were familiar faces at the Wauconda Republican Club dinner/dance held at the Wauconda American Legion hall before the primaries in March.

Being involved in their church is something they've done for many years. Both Dick and Phyllis are members of the Mission Commission at the Wauconda Federated Church.

In that position, the couple aids the underprivileged in any way they can. This includes doing phone work, or actual physical work.

In the past, the Riley's have started organizations like the Wauconda Area Camera Club, and they were also both named official "historians" for the 150-year-old Federated Church in which they spent much time digging up chronological information and materials.

But probably the most positive of all groups they have been instrumental in is a new club, especially for the disabled.

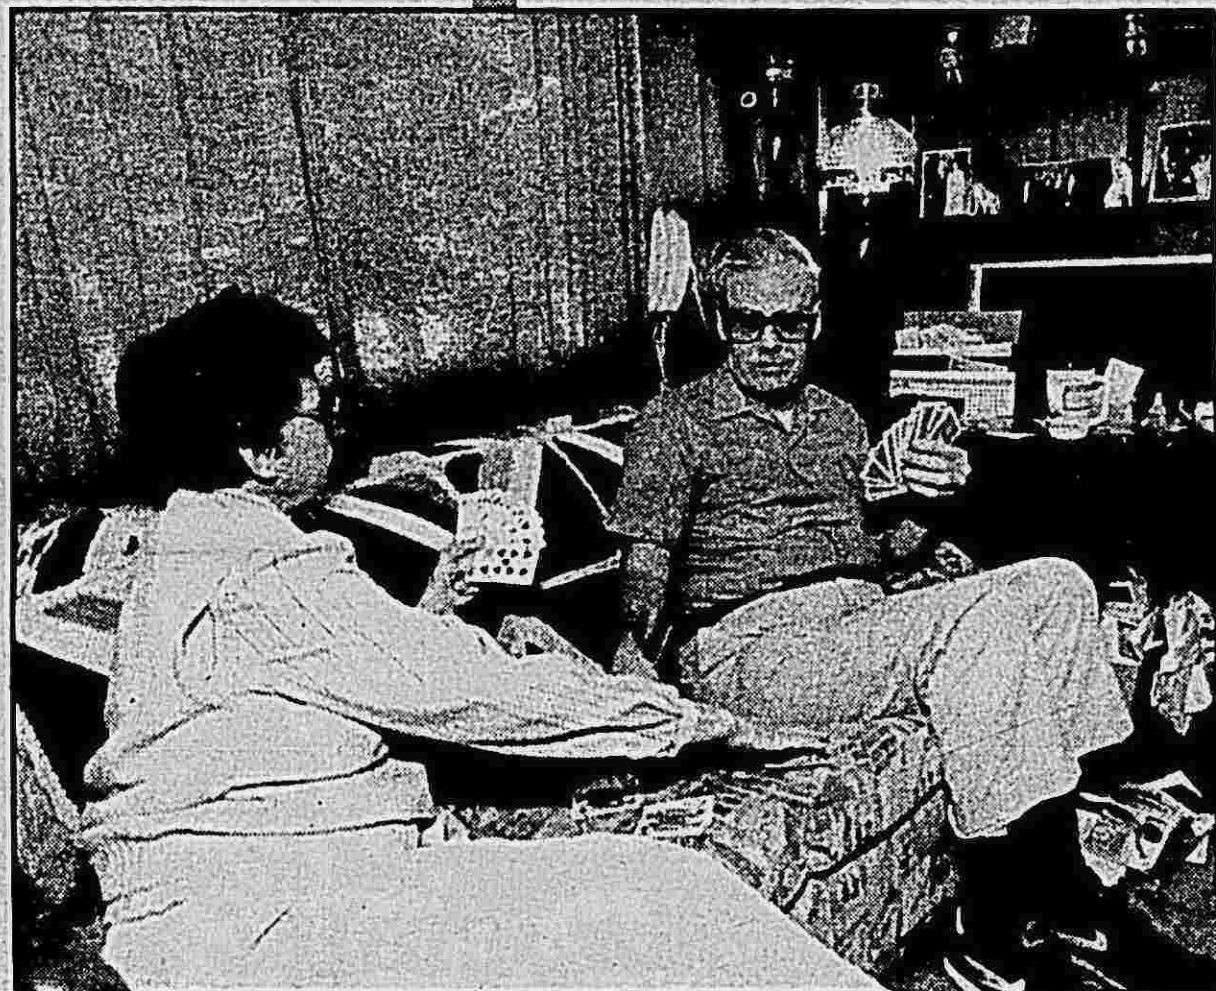

The group is fairly new, and the name is P.F.C. "We decided to call it that because it tells what our group is about. The name is Persons Facing Challenges, because we all face challenges each day, but those of us who are physically disadvantaged must face even more challenges," explained Dick.

Since the group is so recently-formed no dues are being paid yet. The couple said the next meeting will be held in June or July at the new Wauconda Police Station squad room on S. Main Street.

Plans are to have guest speakers, and information. Tips on how the disabled can prepare their income taxes to basic health issues will be discussed.

The Riley's hope to get a lot of input from those who are handicapped as well as those who are physically hampered in the area, and are asking for interested persons to contact them at (708) 526-6125.

Hats off to the Riley's and the many other volunteers which help keep people going. April 18 through April 22 is a national holiday honoring volunteers.

Field's unveils Trend House for 1994

Marshall Field's will unveil its 1994 Trend House on Friday, March 25, revealing this year's theme, "World Class—Chicago Style," at its State Street store, eighth floor. "World Class—Chicago Style" reflects an eclectic mix of vintage and contemporary designs in a Lake Shore Drive penthouse created for a professional, sophisticated couple of the '90s.

The Trend House combines Chicago modern furnishings with art deco, classical elements and a touch of whimsy.

"World Class—Chicago Style" reflects the trend toward personalization, the home becoming a haven, a retreat from outside pressures, where one can express a true sense of self, a place where fantasy becomes reality," stated Judith Maier, designer of the Trend House.

The Trend House will be open to the public during store hours through December 1994.

Nassau's Newest Adventures

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you take advantage of the bargain prices currently being offered for three or four day cruises, you're probably going to spend a day or two in Nassau, the most popular port in the Bahamas.

If you don't get there by sea, American Trans Air (ATA) recently announced a super low airfare to Nassau, which makes this tropical vacation destination affordable to just about anyone.

So what's there to do once you get to Nassau?

Among the most popular of Nassau's newest attractions is the Dolphin Encounter on Blue Lagoon Island.

For some time now, the Calypso excursion boats have offered day trips to Blue Lagoon Island, located about three miles off the coast of Nassau. This Shangri-la is just how you may imagine, with hammocks strung between coconut palms, numerous beaches and sparkling turquoise water. Now there is even more on Blue Lagoon with the new Dolphin Encounter.

For a fee of about $30 you can play with the dolphins from a pier. For another $55, you get to actually swim with these fascinating mammals for a half hour.

Another new addition to Nassau is the famous Atlantis Submarine recently featured on the National Geographic television show.

The Atlantis is a real submarine offering you the opportunity to dive to 80 ft. in air-conditioned comfort. There, you'll gaze through your own port-hole at breathtaking coral reefs and ancient ship-wrecks. Jet-propelled divers cruise around the sub feeding colorful reef-fish and bringing them up close to you. The divers will also identify the marine life and talk to you via a high-tech underwater PA system.

And finally for those looking for a little more excitement, try the Exuma Powerboat Adventure. A 900 HP luxury powerboat will whisk you away to an island inhabited by giant Dragon Lizards. Really!

Good Food Try Mama Leah's kugel

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

Bunnies and baby chicks symbolizing new life remind Christians of the resurrection. But, the spring season is also a very important holiday for Jewish people. Passover recalls the Jewish exodus from Egypt and the plight the people endured.

The tradition of eating matzo, unleavened bread, during Passover arose because when the people fled Egypt, there was no time to wait for the bread to rise, according to Mama Leah. Leah Loeb Fischer is the proprietor of Mama Leah's to Go take-out shops in New York City and she recently wrote "Mama Leah's Jewish Kitchen" with the help of Maria Polushkin Robbins. From Mama Leah's kitchen is the following recipe:

Matzo Meal Onion Kugel

2 medium onions, diced fine
1/4 cup corn oil or Schmaltz (rendered chicken fat)
8 egg yolks
1/2 cup matzo meal
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
8 eggs whites, at room temperature

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sauté the onions in corn oil until they are lightly browned. Remove from heat and let cool. Beat the egg yolks in a mixer until they thicken slightly and become light and fluffy. Fold sautéed onions, matzo meal, salt and pepper into the egg yolks. In another bowl beat the egg whites until they start to form stiff peaks and fold them into the egg yolk mixture. Grease a 2-quart casserole or soufflé dish and pour in mixture. Bake for 45 minutes to 1 hour or until the kugel is set and golden brown on top. Serve as a side dish with either meat or poultry.

Critic's Choice 'The Mesmerist' moves at an uneven pace

Steppenwolf Theatre Company tackles a difficult subject with its latest production, "The Mesmerist"—not always with total success.

Ara Watson's play, directed by Jim True, evolves around spiritual leader Helena Blavatsky, an eccentric Russian-born American citizen who co-founded the Theosophical Society in New York in 1875.

It's set in 1884 in Adyar, India, where the controversial group's credibility is under investigation by Richard Hodgson. As Blavatsky contends, "We are moving against the tide," and it's not easy.

Steppenwolf's imposing set of the society's compound in India is well drawn.

Especially effective are the dream sequences on an upper partition of the stage.

Lois Smith is the manipulative Blavatsky, regularly tormented by her spiritual masters in her quest for perfection. Bill Moor, as Col. Henry Olcott, co-founder of the theosophists, clings to his faith while Molly Regan, as the ever-contentious housekeeper and Blavatsky's companion, does her best to debunk the psychic phenomena surrounding the group.

Robert Simonton is stiff and unreal as Hodgson, the skeptic who sets out to unmask the sect's popularity gurus as frauds. Probably the truest character is Mahatma Koot Hoomi La Singh (portrayed by Michael Stewart), who himself is but a vision.

Overall, "The Mesmerist" moves at an uneven pace, sometimes insightful but often insipid.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)
You are sharp-witted this week and are likely to call the shots as you see them. However, a measure of diplomacy will be needed in dealings with others now. Be leery of a jealous co-worker and those who would take advantage of you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
You may be coping with a touchy co-worker this week. Partners will go along with you, as long as you are not bossy. Upsets may occur regarding social engagements. Take these in stride. Keep others apprised of your thoughts.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)
You are super efficient on the job this week and will make excellent progress. Pay extra attention to details now. You will be hearing from a friend who lives far away. Problems at home could make you irritable over the weekend.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)
This is an excellent week for work on a creative project. You seem to have all the answers now. Dealing with the moods of close ties, however, will require some adroit handling. Self-discipline brings rewards.

LEO (July 23 to August 22)
You will be making important domestic decisions this week. Your judgment is excellent now. However, appointment changes on the job throw you off schedule. Partners are supportive but strain could exist with an in-law. Be leery of those who exaggerate.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22)
You have a razor-sharp intellect this week, but must be careful not to be too critical. Guard against excess spending. This is a period of steady progress. Take some time to think things through with an eye on investments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October

22) Shopping is a plus now and your judgment is astute when it comes to financial interests. Buying and selling are favored. A close tie, though, wants more attention. You and a loved one will enjoy a visit to a favorite place this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21)
You are quick-minded this week but guard against barbed remarks which could hurt others. Things seem unorganized at work and accomplishments may be less than expectations. Take care not to abuse health and diet. A home matter is settled satisfactorily.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21)
Research and study give you important insights this week. Unexpected expenses may arise in connection with pleasure interests. Stay away from financial risk-taking. Get in touch with a friend you haven't seen in a while.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19)
You will impress others with what you have to say at a group meeting. Guard against an inclination to let home duties slide. Friends may drop by at an inconvenient time. Be down-to-earth in business.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18)
You are quick to act on your ideas this week. Remember, though, to be tactful in dealings with higher-ups. Others are unpredictable and hard to pin down. Signals they give may be mixed. Slight irritations are possible at home.

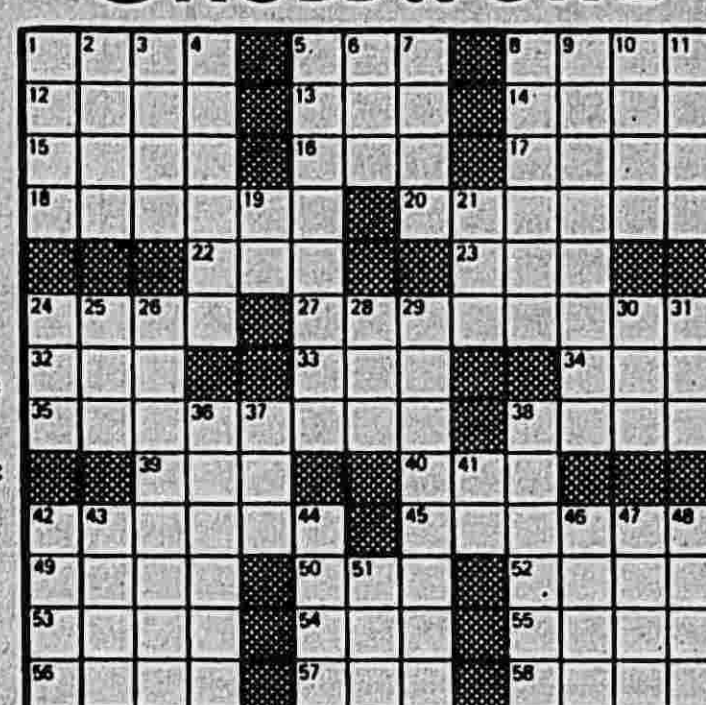

PISCES (February 19 to March 20)
You will speak out on matters that you believe in this week. Mental interests are favored now. Money could easily slip away, if you are not careful. Stick to budgets. Seek advice about finances.

From Seniors to Juniors, Rigby's has it all

It is irrelevant if you are 90 or 9 months, Rigby's Restaurant has it all. When they say it is a family restaurant, they are not kidding! Rigby's has separate menus for both children and seniors, as well as an adult menu which includes breakfast, lunch, and dinner. And, don't forget their appetizers.

Start off your day at Rigby's with their "eggstraordinary, eggs-travaganza, eggs-ceptional" breakfasts. You can have your eggs any way, or Rigby's has 23 different omelettes to choose from. But, Rigby's does not stop at eggs, they also offer pancakes, waffles, French toast, or crepes. Any steak, as a side order, is available with your breakfast.

Lunch is a treat at Rigby's. For their burgers, they use only 100 percent pure beef. For the bigger appetites, try the 1/2 pound burgers. The Rigby's burger is topped with your choice of cheese, (American, Swiss, or Cheddar) and served with French fries or fresh fruits, and either a bowl of soup or a tossed salad. For lighter appetites, try the 1/3 pound burgers.

There are just too many sandwiches to mention. There are steak and chop sandwiches, the "melt shop", hot sandwiches, savory salad sandwiches, chicken, pita, and even croissant sandwiches.

Rigby's also has a large variety of salads. The Rigby salad includes Julienne of turkey, ham, American and Swiss cheeses, hard boiled egg, tomato, green peppers, cucumbers, sliced onions, green olives, over a fresh green salad. Other must try salads include the Olympic salad, the Cajun salad, and the Caribbean salad.

Soups are homemade at Rigby's. They also offer daily specials, fresh seafood, and a number of ethnic dishes. Dinners include steaks, seafood, as well as Mexican, Oriental, and Italian dishes.

Rigby's has a wide variety of beers, both imported and domestic. Wine by the glass or carafe, or your favorite cocktail will only enhance your dining experience at Rigby's.

And, to top off the meal, make sure to try one of the delicious dessert creations. They are out-of-this world.

There are just so many delicious items on the menu, it is hard to choose the best. Instead, drop in and find out for yourself at 1910 E. Grand Avenue in Lindenhurst. Rigby's is open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Stop in for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and carry-outs. For carry-out orders call 356-4440.

New adventures in pizza at Checkers

Whether you're looking for a classic taste in pizza or something really out of the ordinary, stop by Checkers Pizza Shop in Butterfield Corners Mall at Rte. 60. Named as one of the top 10 new restaurants in 1992, the pizzeria offers a unique dining experience.

Choose a combination of a dozen toppings piled on a regular crust or deep-dish pizza with six, eight or 10 slices. Some may opt for a pizza sandwich on an Italian bun, a Stromboli, or a meatball sandwich smothered with toppings — all a good deal at $3.95.

House specialties include the 13-inch California White Pizza with velvety white sauce and four cheeses, the thin crust Five Cheese and Garlic Pizza, Smoked Provolone Pizza, or Tomato and Basil Pizza. In fact, you'll find more than 23 varieties of specialty pizza deliciously presented on three different types of tender crust.

An array of 13 "foldovers", a juicy treat somewhere in between pizza and calzone, offers a treat for any appetite, whether you're in the mood for chicken fajita or taco, bacon burger, roast beef, or Cajun chicken. The immensely popular BLT features the classic taste in a great new form.

Nostalgia buffs can throw a '50s party at Checkers for up to 40 people. Authentic memorabilia from the era will take you back to the time of the U.S. pizza explosion. Furnishings include booths, tables and the counter rescued from Bartels Drive-In, a Waukegan landmark for 30 years. Former customers of the eatery enjoy seeing the equipment restored to its former glory at Checkers.

Stop by Checkers for lunch or dinner or call ahead for carry-out. Delivery is available within a limited area. Call 367-8636.

The restaurant is open for lunch from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Dinner is served from 5 to 9 p.m. on weekdays. Weekend hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

WHAT YOU THINK

FOR ANSWERS.

Shoe help

Can anyone help me? It seems almost impossible to locate steel-toed shoes for women in this area. I am required to wear them. Who sells them? Thank you. I am from Island Lake.

What's in a name?

I am from Round Lake and I have a question. Since we have moved here I have noticed a large number of subdivisions being built around us. How do they determine the names of the streets in each of these different areas? Can you tell me?

Fireplace ban?

I read in today's papers where the Grayslake Village is going to start a burning ban around June 1. I don't think that is right because look at all these new houses going up. Most of them have fireplaces. Now, what the hell they are going to do in the winter time when they all start burning and the wind blows the right way? Will we have laws telling those people to shut off those fireplaces? It is going to be very bad here.

Check it out

I want you to trace back something for me in the Fox Lake Press. This program was on February 17 at Forest School and Lotus. I understand your paper comes out on a Wednesday. Could you trace that back to see if there was a write-up? It was about a president's day program.

Editorial note: Dear reader, despite some of our best efforts, we are unable to cover everything. Sorry about that.

Animal pick up

Can anyone tell me who is responsible for picking up dead animals on the roadways? On my way to work I see a lot. Is the person who hit the animal responsible?

Chief of the month

This is to the Round Lake board. Why are we paying for two police chiefs? Why isn't Jablonski back as chief since he was cleared of all charges?

He remembers

Mr. Betustak. How short do you think our memories are? Have you forgotten the news coverage you received in 1988? I sure have not. You are the last person to speak about township expenses.

Station help

I am a senior citizen. I would like to thank the manager of the service station on Routes 120 and 45. They have the nicest personnel. One cold Saturday evening I stopped in there and did not know what to do because my windshield was frozen. The employees told me what to buy, I installed it, and it really worked. Thank you again.

Against gun control

All gun control politicians make me sick. Just once I would like to see some viable violent crime legislation. Present gun control is not the answer. We need to be against all sales and production of guns, except for the military. This includes the police. Stupid, you say? How can the police protect us without guns? Well, how are we supposed to protect ourselves without guns? Why ban a citizens right to self defense?

ID the sleds

This is in response to "Don't blame everyone." What snowmobile mayhem, you ask? In the past two months we have had snowmobilers cut a 12-foot wide path in the forest preserve using the cut trees as firewood, dozens of ducks being killed, and a bank robbery. And these are only the big stories. I am sure that there are many others who have suffered property damage and a lack of sleep from snowmobilers. My suggestion was to put large, clear identification numbers on the sleds so that those that actually cause the trouble will be blamed. Do you have a problem with that?

Stop calling her

I am from Antioch. It is 5 p.m. on election day and we have received four calls already. Three which told us to vote for a specific issue and the last one to ask if we have voted. I am tired of the phone calls. I had already voted, and the phone calls did not make a difference. I wish they would stop. It is an invasion of my privacy.

Hands are full

I am calling about the hypocrites who walk around with bible in one hand, pretending to be nice guys but go to the video store and buy sex videos. Hypocrites stop doing that. How can you have a bible in one hand and an x-rated video in the other?

Pal to secretaries

I am appalled about the way District 116 is treating its secretaries. They haven't had a raise in three years and expect the work to continue. Come on board members, how long has it been since you went three years without a raise.

Unhappy customer

The reason I did not vote for the Antioch Community High School referendum is because you have incompetent staff.

Blue light supporter

The person who complained about the blue lights on the rescue squad cars is probably the same person who complained about the sirens at night. My husband has a flashing blue light when he responds to emergencies and someday I hope you will realize the need for the system. It does save lives.

You're welcome

I am calling in reference to a call printed about Rational Recovery. I would like to thank you for having it in Lipservice. I was new to the area and I contacted the individual on the hotline. It was nice to talk to someone else who has recovered. I just want everyone to know that the publicity in Lipservice is helpful to people. This is not an endorsement for Rational Recovery. It worked for me, but thank you for putting me in contact with them. Thanks a bunch.

Parking plans

I am a little concerned about parking courtesy in apartment complexes. I live in a building with front and back lots. I wish we had a reasonable plan for parking here. I have a suggestion. Why have the leaseholders park in the front and guests and visitors park in back? I have also suggested that people with two cars park only one in the front. Yet, we have not had much success. If anyone else has had this problem, I would love to hear from you.

Parking problems

The trade fair at Grant High School went very well. On Saturday, any vehicle parked by the curb and sidewalk was immediately subject to a ticket and towing. On Sunday, the mayor parked his car in the same spot all day long. It jeopardized everyone in the building if there had been an emergency. The mayor, chief of police, police department and the law set a bad example for everyone to follow.

Editorial note: Dear reader, according to the chief of police in Fox Lake, the parking was for official cars only. He was not aware of any towing, and no one was put into any jeopardy.

Not good for you

I would like to respond to the man who wants marijuana legalized. I worked in research all of my life and believe me, it is not good for your body. It adheres to the fat cells of your brain and your lungs. The only reason they use it medically is because they have nothing else for people with glaucoma. It is not good for you.

Best of luck

I would like to compliment Judy Martini and congratulate her on her primary win for the County Board seat. She will prove to the people who voted for Jim Fields that she was the better candidate. I wish her the best of luck.

Leaving town

Thanks to BEST the Antioch Community High School is going down the tubes. The last one out of town, turn out the lights.

Bob made it

I would like to congratulate Robert Moore, a freshman at Round Lake High School. He made the varsity baseball team. Congratulations Bob.

Mad at seniors

To all you BEST supporters and those of you who voted down the small tax increase for Antioch Community High School, how cheap of you. I know some seniors that waste that much money in a month. They graduated from Antioch Community High School.

They got theirs. Sleep well.

Deserves more

I am totally appalled that we are unable to pass the Gavin School referendum. Those who voted no should see the inside of the school and should also become more involved in the critical issues facing the school. Then, you might be able to better understand why a new school was needed. People are willing to pay the additional taxes for cigarettes and liquor. Our children deserve more.

She asked

I just got back from a meeting of the Round Lake School board. I am really upset with how they are treating their employees. I just found out they now want to get rid of their bus drivers and bring in a bus service. I am upset because the same bus driver has been driving my kids for years. I like the service I have. I also saw a bunch of ladies wearing buttons that said "Ask Me." So I asked them and they said they were school secretaries and had not had a raise in three years. That's awful. What are you going to do? Wait until it is an empty building? Come on Round Lake, wake-up.

Mad at Judy

I just attended a Waterway Management Agency meeting and I have a real gripe about the attitude of Judy Martini. She sits there chewing gum, whispering like she is in high school. Judy, grow up. The rest of the board is professional. This ain't high school. You are not worthy. Try acting more professional. see LIPSERVICE page B22

Good work

I am calling to applaud the staff at the Fox Lake Walgreens. They are the most courteous, compassionate people in the area. Even though they are moving to a different location, I would travel anywhere to shop there.

Cover up suggestion

I think it is pretty sad that anyone else in Wauconda makes the paper but an ex-police officer who resigned because of harassment. It never made the paper. Is the chief of police trying to hide what he was trying to hide to begin with? Any other Joe-schmo would make the papers.

Seems pointless

I am calling in response to "Important duty." If this person was going to court and seeing these criminals turned loose, she would understand why people don't want to serve on jury duty. What does it accomplish? Criminals go free.

Inside story

The real celebration behind St. Patrick's Day is being set apart onto God. That's what makes a person a saint. According to the bible, all people, living or dead, who have put their total faith and trust in Jesus Christ are saints along with St. Patrick. His life was one humble service and obedience.

Mad at thieves

I am getting very sick and tired of the cable companies in Round Lake. These people have illegal cable boxes bragging they don't have to pay for movies, and other people have to pay. It is not only one cable company but all of them in Lake County.

Clean it up

Now that the weather is better, building owners need to get out there and remove some of the gang graffiti. We don't need any more advertisements for the Latin Kings or people like that. There is a lot of it in Round Lake Park, Hainesville, Round Lake and other areas.

A poem

Who rides the Lindenhurst beat.
He sexually greets,
Every woman he meets,
And treats them all like meat.

Fireplace ban?

I read in today's papers where the Grayslake Village is going to start a burning ban around June 1. I don't think that is right because look at all these new houses going up. Most of them have fireplaces. Now, what the hell they are going to do in the winter time when they all start burning and the wind blows the right way? Will we have laws telling those people to shut off those fireplaces? It is going to be very bad here.

Doesn't make sense

I agree with "Change the laws." Alice the alligator should have never been taken out of her home. Interestingly enough, the law is for dangerous animals, but notice where they are sending Alice. They are sending her to a petting zoo in Texas. Now come on. Why would you send a "dangerous animal" to a petting zoo. Oh PPPleeeze.

Here you go

Conway Twitty always says hello darling. But there is only one darling in this world and that is my mom who reads Lipservice from Chicago. Please print this. This is my third call.

Read more carefully

If you had read Lipservice, you would have seen that I did serve on a jury. My complaint was the payment of such a minimal wage for sitting there and passing judgment. It's $5 a day plus mileage. I have sat in the courtrooms. I am retired but I still say, "Don't call him."

More sports

Okay Fox Lake paper, let's try again. This is your last chance. Spring sports things are due now, how about having articles about Grant High School instead of Richmond or Mundelein. Another thing, are any of you getting tired of all the stuff about politics, especially about the problems in Round Lake. I don't live there but at least they have stores. But, let's get back to the original format, without people complaining or running someone down in Lipservice.

Wants him out

Why wasn't more drastic action taken against the superintendent who was arrested for drinking and driving? It is either time to get a new school board or get a petition to get rid of the superintendent. I don't think he should be dealing with children.

Some ideas

This is for the mom with two children who wanted ideas about staying at home. First of all pick up a book called the "Tightwad Gazette." It is great and will give you a more complete understanding about why a second income is not always the best. It offers advice about how to make it on a single income. It is hard, it's tough, but it can work. Otherwise, try an at home business. At the worst, go only part time. I am a father, I work as best I can to keep my wife at home with our preschoolers. But, you can really see a difference in our kids.

Mad at us

I am appalled at looking at Healthwatch, seeing the good dentist helping residents at Lambs

Farm with proper dental hygiene. You referred to all of them as children. You should be ashamed of yourselves calling them children. They were young adults.

No means no

The election is over on Tuesday, and already Antloch is talking about another school referendum. I just wanted to say that maybe they were not educated well enough, this referendum committee. Don't they know, that no means no? How many times must they be told no, before they understand it? Try looking for a viable alternative instead of shoving something down our throats we do not want.

Tax tired

I am tired of taxes. We are paying sales tax, real estate tax, income tax, and by the time I'm through See LIPSERVICE page B23 with the money I have earned, I have nothing for myself. I pay taxes on gas, groceries. Where does the money go? The government blows it. You are paying for useless stuff. They need to budget themselves. This is stupid. We are just going down. Learn to live within your limits. That is what I have to do.

Eye problems

I really appreciate the maps of Route 53 that appeared in the paper last week. It would have been nicer if you had printed them larger so we could read it. Some of us have failing eyes.

More bus rumors

There was an article in Lipservice that was wrong. I heard the Pace bus is going to give up service from Wauconda, to Island Lake, to Mundelein.

More advice

I found the best way. For the mom looking for ideas, she should try to work evenings and weekends. That way, the father is able to develop a nice relationship with the children. Also, candidates, please remove the left-over signs from the election. It would be quite nice to see the scenery again.

No flush

I feel sorry for the people in Round Lake Park. Their water bills are so high. When I go into a public place I can always tell when people from Round Lake Park have been there. They never flush the toilets. I think that is pretty sad.

A big thanks

I want to thank everyone for their efforts in the District 114 Jumping Jamboree Week. It celebrated the opening of the family center at Forest School. About 80 people participated.

Back to education

I am from Libertyville, and while I am not glad that the Wildcats lost, but maybe now my two sons can resume their education. There is too much focus on sports at that school and education is put on the back burner. Let's get on with teaching.

Sticker shock

This is for the officials of Round Lake Beach. We thought you were for the people. If so, how can you raise sticker prices 400 percent? I think it is outrageous.

Let's find out

Did you know that the Grayslake District 46 officials knew that the attendance projections were not accurate, and actually inflated, but they didn't tell us? Why not? We should find out what is going on in our school system. Also, why don't we have the proper funding to maintain our school buildings. Where is all the money going? I do not support the learning center idea. Let's put some common sense into school board planning.

The Winner is?

I am from Wauconda and would like to say that the Academy Awards show was better this year because of Whopple Goldberg hosting the show. She was funny, bright, and entertaining. It's always great to see all those famous Hollywood star. They do a fine job entertaining us all year long. Thank you Hollywood.

Is he kidding?

Why can't Hainesville drill a well and get good water at their new apartments. When, we in Round Lake have to drink that lousy Lake Michigan water?

No difference to her

One can tell it is spring when you drive down the road and see all the little animals being killed because some people cannot drive sensibly. What else can one expect when all you see and read on the news today is about all these killings of young people. You have all these girls and young women who can't wait to lay down and get pregnant, and then rush off to an abortion clinic. So killing babies that aren't born yet and running down little animals makes no difference to people today. These are all God's creatures. Remember that. Spring, oh spring

Public schools

After reading your article about the Antioch High School referendum, I am appalled and offended by Phil Delany's remarks about the flyer distributed throughout Antioch listing teachers' salaries. Who is this man kidding? What have we got going? Some private prep-school? No. This is a public school, paid for by us, the taxpayers. He calls this an invasion of privacy, when we have every right to that information. Every person drawing a salary from us the taxpayers better take note and realize that the taxpayers have had it.

Camp Guide Camp Guide

Preventing campground crime

Of all the wild critters there are to see and enjoy in America's great outdoors, there's one that no one wants to run across: The campground thief. But he's out there and there's a chance you'll meet up with him someday if you're a camper.

Nothing can ruin a camping trip faster than having someone steal your ice chest full of food that you were planning to eat for the next two days. Cash and other valuables are more temptation than some dishonest individuals are able to stand. But following a few tips and taking advantage of some new technology can reduce your chances of becoming a victim.

- Boats: Remove fishing, skiing and other attractive equipment when leaving the boat unattended overnight or for extended periods during the day.
- Cars: Don't leave valuables such as purses, wallets and cameras lying on the seat or dashboard in open view when you leave your car, even if the car is locked. Thieves now have very efficient tools for opening locked vehicle doors. Place the valuables in the glove box or trunk.

• When you leave your campsite unattended for a length of time, let the ranger or a trustworthy neighbor know so they can keep an eye on your property.

In addition to the above tips, here's one more that is sure to reduce campground crime. New electronic security devices are available that watch your campsite or recreational vehicle for you while you're away or sleeping.

These new devices are motion detectors that alert campers to the presence of intruders by sounding a beep-tone alarm when someone enters the monitored area.

LEADING THE WAY

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Fragrance company arrives

WAUCONDA—Ryan and company Realtor's President Sean Ryan announced the sale of an 87,000 square foot industrial site in the Wauconda Business Park to U.S. Flavors and Fragrances. Chairman of the Board James Panger and President Carl Stapleton plan a spring ground breaking for a 25,000 square foot National Head Quarters. U.S. Flavors and Fragrances is one of the fastest growing manufacturers of flavoring additives for the baking, confectionery and soft drink industries. It also manufactures fragrances for personal and household care.

Mail N More collects peanuts

ROUND LAKE—A collection center for plastic loose-fill, the puffs of plastic foam used as packing material, has been opened at Mail N More in Round Lake Beach. Residents are being encouraged to deposit clean, good-as-new, foam loose-fill shaped like peanuts, figure eights, cup-shaped disks and other geometric forms, at participating collection locations rather than in their trash. According to Mail N More spokesperson Bob Damato, consumers can call 1-800-828-2214 for collection center locations and request free educational literature to learn about loose-fill and the environment.

Senate approves Geo-Karis bill

ZION—Businesses owned by women or members of minorities would continue to get a 12 percent share of state business, under legislation advanced by State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion). "Our law stipulating this percentage of state contracts is scheduled to sunset this year," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "My Senate Bill 1712 would give a boost to minority and female-owned firms by continuing the 12 percent share to 1999." Sen. Geo-Karis explained that under the Minority and Female Business Enterprise Act, there is a goal that at least 12 percent of the total dollar amount of state contracts will be awarded to businesses headed by women, members of minorities or people with disabilities. "This is a good way to foster entrepreneurship and to help developing businesses succeed," she said. The Senate Executive Committee approved the bill and it now goes to the full Senate for consideration.

Unique play center lets kids' imaginations soar

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Children love nothing more than dressing up and taking a journey into a world of make believe. Now there is a place where they can go wherever their minds can dream.

Let's Pretend opened March 1 at 469 N. Lake Street in Mundelein, offering children and their parents an opportunity to embark on a journey of fantasy together.

Owners Isabelle Kennebeck and Fran Free came up with the idea almost by accident. The two Mundelein neighbors had talked of opening a business together but hadn't found anything that really triggered their enthusiasm. One day Isabelle's granddaughter and Fran's daughter were having a great time playing dress-up and laughingly suggested the women start a business. From there, other family members added ideas for theme rooms, taking the dress-up idea a step further.

"There are a lot of kid things around," said Free. "We wanted something different. Children need to learn to be creative. We decided to develop something that would be an interactive experience between parents and children."

They bought out a dress shop in Long Grove. Friends and relatives were put on the alert for possible costumes. Others with sewing talents whipped up outfits. The inventory includes hundreds of costumes for boys as well as girls. A site was located and a massive decorating effort was begun with assistance from family members, art students from Mundelein High School and a professional artist.

Families will find eight different fantasies at Let's Pretend. Walls are decorated in each room to achieve the desired effect with mirrors and art work.

Children can visit a large stuffed dinosaur in the Dino Room. The enchanted Forest is populated by familiar Disney characters. Another room with a Western theme holds a teepee, a hitching post and a resident bear. Sports fans will find a locker room decorated in an Olympic theme. All the popular superheroes can be found in yet another room. Space enthusiasts can fly into the Space Room. Young royalty will rule the world from the Castle. Future movie stars will be in their element in the

In the make-up area kids can find a new look and experiment with glitter nails, washable tattoos and face painting.

Let's Pretend has two services for their big and little visitors. "Dress Up and Play" is an hour of fantasy for $6 per person. For "Tea Time" a child and parent can spend 45 minutes of dress up and 15 minutes in the party room enjoying star cookies and juice served from a silver tea pot. The cost is $5 per person; a third may join them for $7 more.

Two party rooms offer more special make believe. "Let's Celebrate" features adult-size furniture for those who can't wait to grow up. The "Beary Special Room" has tiny tables and chairs for little ones along with a colony of teddy bears.

Parties include one hour of dress up and 30 minutes in one of the party rooms. Guests may feast on finger sandwiches in star shapes, star pizza or hot dogs along with gelatin jigglers, favorite kid beverages and a birthday dessert. The cost is $9.95 per child. Treat bags are also available with a choice of goodies. Let's Pretend will even send out your invitations.

The "star" theme is prevalent. Kennebeck and Free want to make children feel special, for each of them is a "star."

The play center is geared to children from 3 to 11. For more information on this special place call 566-6900.

CLC Lakeshore anticipates expansion improvements

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Plans are moving along for the expansion of the College of Lake County Lakeshore campus. The CLC board approved the purchase of the Globe Department Store building at 33 N. Genesee St. March 9. The Waukegan City Council agreed to the sale March 15.

Under the intergovernmental agreement, the college will purchase the property for $185,000 and will spend at least $2 million more to remodel and repair the building. The city will share in the cost of asbestos testing and removal and will provide 300 parking places behind the building and in the surrounding area. The plan will include 150 spaces for the exclusive use of the college.

"The details are still in the planning stages," said CLC media relations coordinator Lyla MacLean.

The current building at 111 N. Genesee was purchased in 1981 and the facility opened with around 600 students, most of them adults. The building contains 11 classrooms and four conference rooms, one of which is sometimes used as a classroom.

The Lakeshore campus has served nearly 50,000 students and the 1994 spring enrollment was 1474.

The addition will double the number of classrooms at the campus and add two computer labs, a science lab, a child care center, a bookstore and a library.

"These are services were unable to provide before because of the limited space in the current building," said MacLean. "At the time it opened it was primarily for adult education. Now students can take courses leading to associate degrees in arts and science and applied science in business management."

What qualifies as untaxed money

Many taxpayers are confused as to the tax consequences of certain receipts. There is a lengthy list of the various types of proceeds that are not subject to income tax. The most common of these untaxed receipts are as follows:

1. Gifts - Every person is permitted to give $10,000 per year to any number of donee's without limit and without the imposition of gift tax. The gift is also not taxable to the donee.
2. Disability benefits other than for loss of wages, including disability pensions from the veterans administration.
3. Child support payments.
4. Inheritances
5. Borrowed money but if the debt is cancelled it may become taxable at that time.
6. Death benefits up to $5,000 paid by an employer.
7. Benefits under the G.I. Bill

This list is by no means exhaustive. These are the receipts on which people have a tendency to pay income taxes, where they have no obligation to do so.

Although gifts and inheritances are not subject to income tax when transferred from one person to another, they may be subject to a transfer tax. If there is a liability under the gift and estate tax laws, the liability is on the transferor. This means that in most cases the money will have been taxed before you receive it. In no event is it subject to income tax.

Even though you may pay Seldler no transfer tax, you are subject to tax on the earnings of the assets after you receive them. Therefore if you receive a large sum of money it is best to consult your accountant/financial advisor to determine the best way to invest these sums as well as reduce the tax liability you may have on any earnings from these assets.

All material presented is general in nature and should not be acted upon without professional assistance. Baxter, Quorum Health Resources sign three-year multi-million-dollar agreement

Baxter Healthcare Corporation and Quorum Health Resources, Inc. announced that they have signed a three-year prime-vendor agreement that is expected to result in purchases of more than $200 million in Baxter products and services. The agreement expands Baxter's relationship with Quorum, one of the nation's largest managers of acute-care hospitals.

The new agreement, effective immediately, covers a wide variety of hospital products from Baxter's Surgical Group, including instrumentation, custom procedure kits, diagnostic trays, and respiratory and anesthesia products.

James E. Dalton Jr., president and chief executive officer of Quorum Health Group, Inc., said that Baxter consistently demonstrates its ability to work as a partner to better manage the total cost of supplies for Quorum's affiliated hospitals. "Our growing business with Baxter underscores the confidence we have in Baxter's ability to provide valuable products and services while helping us reduce overall supply costs," Dalton said. Dalton added Quorum and Baxter share a commitment to quality, excellence and service.

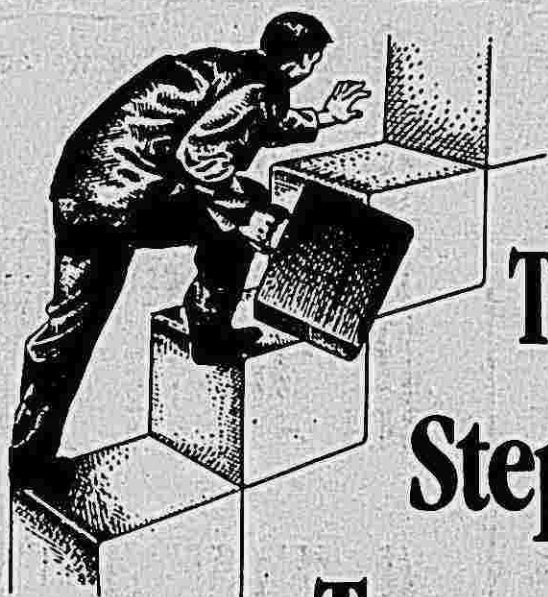

"Health-care facilities are under pressure to contain costs, and they want to work with suppliers who can help them find creative solutions to cutting expenses without sacrificing the quality of care," said Lester B. Knight, executive vice president of Baxter. "The partnership approach to controlling total costs is a significant part of our corporate strategy to extend our leadership in the markets we serve. This agreement with Quorum demonstrates the value we provide its hospitals."

Quorum Health Group, Inc., based in Brentwood, Tennessee, operates 13 acute-care hospitals through affiliates. Quorum Health Resources, Inc., a subsidiary, is one of the nation's largest manager of acute-care hospitals. It also provides consulting services to hospitals throughout the country.

Quorum participates in Baxter's Corporate Program, which facilitates multi-year product-and-service agreements with major hospitals and health-care groups. "Quorum is a valued customer," said Terrence J. Mulligan, Baxter's group vice president of multihospital systems and corporate marketing.

—INVESTMENT TRENDS—

Noah A. Seldenberg,
Investment Representative of Edward D. Jones & Co.

Value of capital gains

Prior to 1986, long-term capital gains received special tax treatment. When an investor realized a capital gain on an investment held longer than one year, only 40 percent of the gain was taxed. The remainder of the gain was exempt from taxes to compensate the investor for risk-taking, furnishing capital growth, losing income while the investment grew and depreciating capital through inflation.

Then, the Tax Reform Act of 1986 eliminated this special treatment, and all capital gains were taxed as ordinary income. The objective of increasing capital gains tax rates was to increase tax revenue. However, historical evidence overwhelmingly indicates that the way to increase tax revenue has been to decrease capital gains taxes. When Congress lowered the capital gains tax rate from 40 percent to 28 percent in 1978, and reduced it again to 20 percent in 1981, revenue from capital gains taxes increased 184 percent.

Critics argue that rising inflation and generally higher stock prices—not lower tax rates—caused the increased tax revenue during that period. However, during that time, the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the gross national product increased at only half the rate of capital gains tax revenues. Since 1986, when the capital gains tax rate was raised from 20 percent back to 28 percent, tax revenues have taken a significant tumble, falling dramatically every year since 1987. In 1991, for example, capital gains tax revenue was projected to be $268 billion. The actual amount was $108 billion.

The reason for this decline is that taxpayers have the choice to delay capital gains or not to take them at all. Capital gains are not taxable until the year in which they are taken. It appears that when capital gains taxes are lower, taxpayers are more willing to liquidate investments and pay the taxes. However, when the capital gains tax is higher, profit-taking is postponed, and tax revenues fall.

Fortunately, the recently passed budget plan did not increase the capital gains tax rate. In fact, the plan restored some of the benefit of capital gains by offering a 50 percent exclusion for gains on certain investments held at least five years.

Sedgewood opens five models in Round Lake

Red Seal Development Corp. celebrated the grand opening of five decorated model homes at Sedgewood Cove on Crooked Lake in Lindenhurst.

Sedgewood Cove is both a recreational and environmentally sensitive community. A total of 134 single-family homes will be built on a bluff overlooking the lake. And more than two-thirds of the residences, which range in size from 1,665 to 2,598 square feet, will enjoy lake views. Current base prices range from $159,990 to $198,990.

Boat storage and piers are planned for people to take advantage of the water. Also planned are picnic areas that will include barbecues and a shelter for outdoor family gatherings. And a tot lot, private beach and tennis court can offer hours of amusement for children and adults alike.

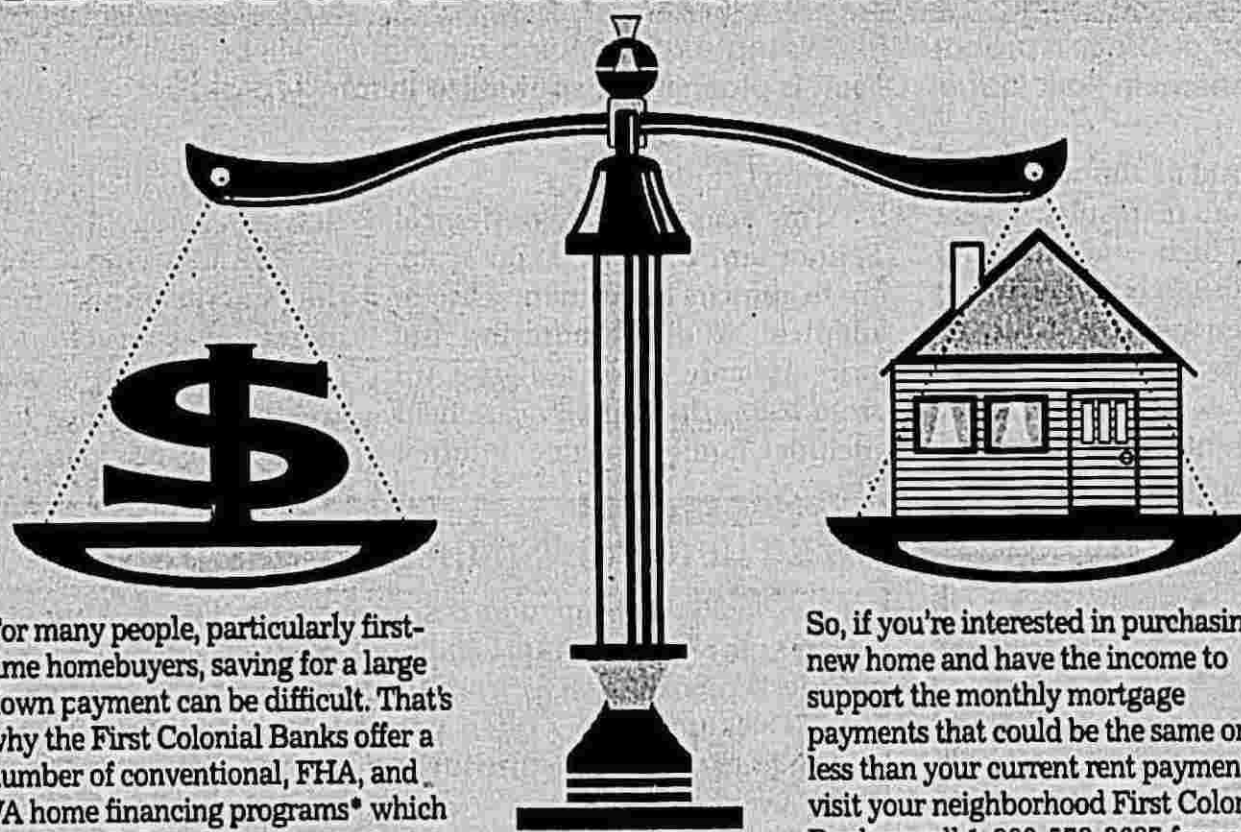

Approximately 85 percent of Sedgewood Cove's 76 acres are being preserved as open space. One-half mile of Crooked Lake's shoreline is being left untouched because much of the area is wetlands, vegetation and oak and hickory savanna remnants.

Red Seal is restoring and managing existing nature areas by removing harmful plants such as buckthorn, which allows prairie flowers and native prairie grasses to grow. Trails will wind through the preserve and offer scenic lookout points so residents may take advantage of the nature areas.

Dreams, prayers come true for Smith

Pamela Smith gets a second birthday to celebrate from now on. Pam celebrates her birthday on September 9, but now each March 1 she will be able to celebrate the "gift of life." On March 1, Pam received a double lung transplant at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, after an 11 month wait. On that day her dreams did come true and her hopes for new lungs became a reality.

At about 11 p.m. that night, the Barnes Lung Transplant Coordinator called on the phone to say, "Can you come to the hospital? We're working on a possible lung donor for you." After a nine hour surgery, the new lungs were in place and the miracle had begun.

Pam has done exceptionally well with her recovery. Out of the 215 lung transplant patients, she is in the top five to have such a great recovery. She was out of the hospital in two weeks.

Chuck and Pam went to the St. Louis Zoo and out to dinner on a five hour pass given by the hospital on March 13. She couldn't believe that she wasn't winded and without oxygen! She said, "It feels so great to be able to breathe. I love my new lungs!"

Pam and Chuck will stay in St. Louis for three more months. She will go to Pulmonary Rehab every day and have weekly check-ups at Barnes to make sure all continues to go well. Pam's spirits have always remained high and she was always positive that God would give her new lungs.

Pam and Chuck thank all of their friends and neighbors in Providence Village for their support and concern. It was a very positive factor in their lives to know that they had so many wonderful folks back home praying and caring about them.

Just say 'I quit smoking'

Victory Memorial Hospital realizes how difficult it can be to kick the smoking habit, and therefore presents "I Quit Smoking," a program of the American Cancer Society. This free five-session class will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., March 20 through 24, in the Amphitheater at Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan.

It is necessary to attend all five sessions to complete the class. The program offers positive suggestions on how to quit smoking comfortably, as well as information on physical side effects, coronary system concerns, and methods to prevent weight gain while quitting. A panel of ex-smokers will be on hand to offer helpful suggestions. Registration is required, so reserve your space today by calling 360-4246.

Match Day held at Chicago Medical School

At exactly 11 a.m., 160 fourth-year medical students at The Chicago Medical School at Finch University of Health Sciences joined their colleagues nationwide in participating in "Match Day," the day when students discover which hospital they were "matched" with for their residency assignments.

Four years of anticipation and anxiety that have surrounded this moment were quickly replaced with cheering, hugging and champagne corks popping in the school's rathskeller (a special version of a German social/beer hall) as the "matches" were distributed by Dr. Theodore Booden, dean of The Chicago Medical School, and Jan Reese, assistant dean of student affairs.

Match Day, coordinated by the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP), establishes a uniform date and impartial means to match applicants and hospital's preferences for each other in a consistent manner. After an interview process, applicants and hospitals submit to the NRMP a ranked list of preferences. Each applicant is then matched to the hospital program highest on their list. Each year, approximately 16,000 U.S. medical students participate in the match program with an additional 8,000 to 11,000 "independent" applicants to compete for 23,000 available positions.

School is proud to announce outstanding match results," said Herman M. Finch, chairman and CEO of Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School. "Approximately 80 percent of Chicago Medical School students were matched with their top three choices and 55 percent were matched with their first choice."

This year at Chicago Medical School and on a national scale, there appears to be an increase in medical students entering the primary care area, a figure up from 1993. The primary care field includes family practice, internal medicine, pediatrics and obstetrics-gynecology.

"We are trying to demonstrate the benefits of primary care with increased exposure of students to this area which gives them a greater opportunity to consider this option," said Dr. Booden.

torate from Indiana State University. She is a member of the American Psychological Association, Illinois Psychological Association, American Professional Society for the Prevention of Sexual Abuse of Children and a board member of the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

Finch University professor named to prestigious post

Robert Rakowski, Ph.D., Professor of Physiology and Biophysics at Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, has been named as a member of the Neurology B-1 Study Section, Division of Research Grants, Department of Health and Human Services, for a period extending through June 30, 1996.

The announcement was made by Jerome G. Green, M.D., Director of the Division of Research Grants.

The assignment represents a high degree of recognition of Dr. Rakowski's expertise. He indicates that members are selected on the basis of their demonstrated competence and achievement in their scientific discipline.

Dr. Green indicated that Dr. Rakowski's membership represents "a unique opportunity to contribute to the national biomedical research effort since study sections annually review grant applications to the National Institutes of Health which run into hundreds of millions of dollars.

"Dr. Rakowski's participation," says Dr. Green, "Assures the quality of the NIH peer review process and at the same time recognizes Dr. Rakowski's scientific stature and contributions."

Dr. Rakowski lives in Lake Forest. Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School is located at 3333 Green Bay Rd., in North Chicago.

Psychologist to present eating disorders lecture

"Undiagnosed eating disorders can have serious—even fatal consequences," states Gail Purdy, Ph.D., a psychologist on staff at St. Therese Medical Center.

Dr. Purdy, who specializes in eating disorders, explains that the two most common types are anorexia, which is severe dieting, and bulimia, eating and purging.

"Eating disorders are really complex medical problems because they affect individuals psychologically, emotionally and physically. Therefore treatment is multi-disciplinary involving a psychologist, nutritionist, physician and dietitian," she explains.

"The disorders are more common among women because of the emphasis our society places on youth, attractiveness and body image. According to a recent study, one to two percent of the female population is anorexic," Dr. Purdy adds. "This is significant because eight to 18 percent of those clinically diagnosed as anorexic will die."

Dr. Purdy will discuss eating disorders and their symptoms which include, strange eating patterns, depression and excessive workouts, at a free community lecture sponsored by St. Therese. The program will be held at the medical center, 2615 Washington, Waukegan, from 7 to 8 p.m., on April 6.

Dr. Purdy, who has a private practice in Lake Bluff, received her doctorate from Northern Illinois University. She is a member of the American Psychological Association, the National Registry of Health Service Providers and conducts an eating disorders group for the Lake County Health Department.

The lecture is part of the 1993-94 Life Skills Series. For more information or to register, call 244-5900.

Center offers safe bathing for people with physical limitations

For most of us, taking a shower or bath is a simple task. But for many others, performing these daily hygiene rituals safely are nearly impossible.

People who have experienced an injury or illness that limits their muscle strength, physical stability and/or mobility often need assistance in bathing. Just getting in and out of a bathtub can prove difficult for someone recovering from a broken hip or whose leg movement is limited as the result of a stroke.

The Victory Adult Day Center's bath program provides an alternative to home bathing. The program uses a unique bathtub at the center (located in the Lake County Family YMCA), 2000 Western Ave., Waukegan. The tub's side door slides up, allowing people easy and safe entry. Once safely seated, the side slides down and securely seals the bottom and side edges of the tub against leakage. The tub includes a whirlpool for complete upper and lower body massage. Its shower hose features pulsating water for spot massage, shampooing and rinsing.

trained bath aide is available to help with dressing, tub operation, bathing, shampooing and towel drying.

Appointments can be made between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the center, 2000 Western Ave., Waukegan. For more information or a tour of the Victory Adult Day Center including its unique bath program, call 360-9860.

Extension offers food training

The trend toward a simpler lifestyle is accompanied by a yearning to capture the tastes and smells of country kitchens. The preparation and preservation of home grown foods is seeing a revival of "home arts" practiced by earlier generations. To meet this need, University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service (CES) is offering a training to teach volunteers the most recent USDA-approved methods for preserving foods.

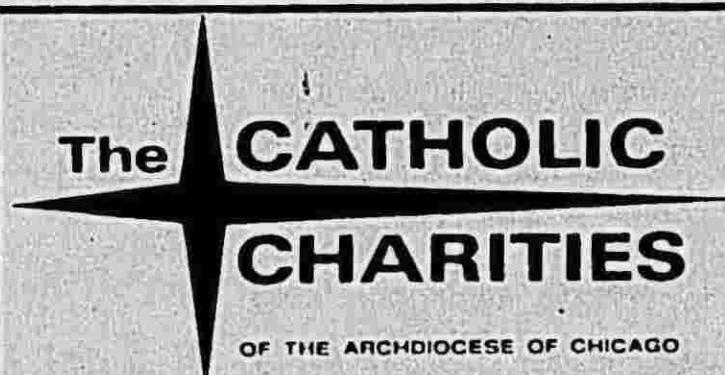

Linda Elks, Nutrition and Wellness Extension Educator, will provide participants with 24 hours of training in food safety, freezing, water bath and pressure canning. Each unit consists of two hours of instruction and four hours of "hands-on" lab experience in the kitchen. Upon successful completion of the training, certified class members become Master Food Preservers and agree to return thirty hours of volunteer time to CES.

Volunteer activities may include promotion of food safety or providing awareness of updated food preservation methods at farmer's markets, fairs, or special events in Lake County. Volunteers applying for the program should have an interest in preservation and food safety as well as an interest in sharing information with others.

Training is provided at the CES educational auditorium in Grayslake on April 7, 14, 16 and 23. There is a $60 fee to cover the cost of all books, educational materials and laboratory fees. Upon request, scholarships are available to a limited number of applicants.

To obtain an application or for additional information for the Master Food Preserver program, call 223-8627.

Home improvements to assist the disabled can be tax deductible

There are 43 million Americans with disabilities, but federal tax laws can be confusing when it comes to the deductibility of certain medical and capital expenditures for the disabled. The taxpayer may also include amounts paid on behalf of a person who qualifies as a dependent.

What capital expenses qualify as a medical expense deduction? According to the Internal Revenue Service, you can include amounts you pay for special equipment installed in your home or for improvements, as long as their main purpose is medical care.

"Permanent improvements that increase the value of your property may be partly included as a medical expense," said Mike Spangler, managing broker of Century 21 Care Real Estate, Inc. located in Fox Lake. "However, the increase in property value is subtracted from the cost of the improvement. The difference is considered a medical expense. If property value is not increased by the improvement, the entire cost is considered a medical expense," he said.

Certain home improvements made to accommodate a disability of the owner, spouse or dependent usually do not increase the value of the home. Those costs can be included as full medical expenses. Some of these improvements include:

- Constructing entrance or exit ramps.
- Widening entrance or exit doorways.
- Widening or modifying hallways and interior doorways.
- Installing railings, support bars or other modification to bathrooms.
- Lowering or modifying kitchen cabinets and equipment.
- Moving or modifying electrical outlets and fixtures.
- Installing porch lifts and other forms of lifts, but generally not elevators.
- Modifying fire alarms, smoke detectors and other warning devices and systems.
- Modifying stairways.
- Adding handrails or grab bars wherever needed.
- Modifying hardware on doors.
- Modifying areas in front entrance and exit doorways.
- Grading the ground to provide access to the residence.

If you're considering remodeling or building a new home to accommodate someone with a disability, a catalog of accessible home designs is available from the National Easter Seal Society. The 16-page, full-color booklet of floor plans is the result of the first Easy Access Housing Design Competition, sponsored by Century 21 Real Estate Corp. and the National Easter Seal Society. "This contest challenged architects to submit designs to meet the accessibility needs of people with disabilities who want to be able to function more easily in their homes," said Spangler. The catalog includes winning designs for both new and remodeled homes and profiles on each architect and "Easy Access" reference materials. Donations of $10 for each catalog will be accepted to offset printing and mailing costs. Contact the National Easter Seal Society at 70 E. Lake St., Chicago, IL 60601.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Until last week I was employed with (name withheld). I have held a position there for a few months, working third shift on a line. I liked my job - it wasn't too difficult and the hours weren't the greatest, but I needed it. There was a minor accident which caused me to need a few stitches in my finger. My supervisor told me that when I got to the hospital I would receive treatment and must take a test to see if there is any alcohol or drugs in my system. He said that it is corporate policy that all employees involved in any work related injury must test. He told me that I take it or it is grounds for termination. Since I needed to receive treatment, I took their test. I failed it and I lost my job as a result of a positive test. What ever happened to "What I do on my own time is my business"? My buddies tell me I was treated unfair and that I was bullied into taking the test. I was wondering if perhaps I should contact someone. D.J.G. - Lake Villa

A: By "someone" do you mean perhaps an attorney? Save your money and time. The company you were employed with joined the ranks of many employers nationwide who require the very same policy be strictly enforced. The reasons are clear that with work-related injuries, the employer has the right to know if the injury sustained is due to employee negligence. In your particular case, your employer has signs posted throughout the plant as well as in the employee rules and regulations, that I was assured by them you were made aware of upon hire. As for what you do on your own time being your business ... Get with the program. Employers have rights too ... among them ... the right to an injury free ... drug and alcohol free environment.

Q: I accepted a job that was offered to me. I was told they would call me within the week to let me know the day I was supposed to start. I placed a call to them the next day to see if they had tried to reach me while I was out ... and had hoped they had decided on a date for me to begin and they hadn't ... but said they'd call. Three more days went by ... no call I placed more calls to them to find out what was going on but no one called back. Until yesterday! The personnel office called to say that they were taking back the offer they made saying that with the amount of telephone calls I made to them within four days, I appeared to have a difficult time understanding directions when they said they would be in touch with me. Can they take back an offer? What do you suggest I do? L.W. - Glenview

A: They can and did! What should you do? Become a better listener and invest in an answering machine so you're sure not to miss any calls.

NIOPAL

Extensive brick work gives a look of solid permanence to the Niopal. Dormer windows and a front porch supported by tapered columns add charm to this mid-size family plan. Three dormer windows, one in front and two in back, illuminate a large attic space (almost 1,200 square feet) -- a bonus space for later development. This can be built over a basement.

Oak-framed French doors, just inside the entry, open into a home office. If exterior access is desired, a glass door may be substituted for the window that faces onto a porch with graceful tapered columns.

The living room, too, has a view of the porch. Three other sections of the window bay combine to offer a panoramic view facing the front. On the opposite side of the room, a fireplace with a brick or tile hearth provides a warm focal point when the weather turns cold.

Master suite, dining room, kitchen and nook wrap around a large deck. The large gathering spaces are rich in window glass and the master suite is illuminated by sky lights.

Other amenities in the master suite include his-and-hers walk-in closets (hers is the larger one), an oversized tub, and two basins. Shower and water closet are separately enclosed for steam containment and added privacy. Located far from the busy family room and kitchen, the master suite is a quiet retreat.

The country-style kitchen is huge but laid out with efficiency in mind. Sink, cooktop, refrigerator and ovens are all clustered close to each other. Standing at the kitchen sink, you gaze across the deck through a garden window. Turn around to stir something on the stove and you face into the family room.

The dishwasher, located next to the nook, is raised to reduce back strain. A large walk-in pantry provides plenty of space for storing canned goods and staples.

Utilities are down the hall, next to two secondary bedrooms and the garage. Two bedrooms share a bathroom that has two basins. The garage has extra storage space and is outfitted with a workbench and a recycling center.

For a study kit of the NIOPAL (333-260), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Guards lead the highlight films as 1993-94 team listed

It was clearly a guard's year. Talk of the 1993-94 season begins with Kyle Kessel and Matt Heldman from Mundelein and Libertyville. But there were also all conference guards in Grunee and Mundelein and an MVP guard who elevated his team to the elite of the county.

All-area Lakeland Newspapers basketball team members include:

Robert Swanson of Round Lake, a post player who led the Panthers. He came up with a key role in the Panthers win over Grayslake. He averaged 14 points and 8 rebounds a tilt.

Dave Mendralla, who won the most valuable player honors in the Northwest Suburban Conference. The guard was the sparkplug as the Rams made it to the county's final four.

Sean Stackhouse: like Mendralla, a junior guard. Stackhouse averaged 20 points a game for the Mustangs. Many may not know him for his defense, but anyone dribbling against Mundelein's intense defense does. He finished with 88 steals to lead the team.

Jamie Carruthers: the senior forward for Libertyville, Carruthers has the uncanny knack of rebounding and three-point shooting. His treys helped make the first loss to Mundelein look respectable, then nearly pulled out the quarterfinal game against Rockford Boylan.

Mike Ingram, Grant: the senior was one of two twin towers along with Kurt Filiatreault as Grant muscled to a 17-win season.

Second team:

At guard, Dave Woods and Dan Stasiek. Both earned all conference honors, Woods in the North Suburban Conference with a 19-point average for 14-13 Warren. Stasiek averaged 12 points for the Corsairs and was named all East Suburban Catholic Conference.

Eric Eckensthaler: the junior 7-footer averaged 15 points and had 8.7 rebounds a game for a sub-par Antioch club. He had 208 blocks, something fans should note next year. He was team MVP.

Jeff Toler, Richmond: the senior averaged in double figures for the Rockets, despite being doubled and triple-teamed.

Geoff Sponholtz: much like Carruthers at Libertyville, the senior gave the Rams an inside-outside attack. He advanced to state in three-point shooting competition.

Honorable mention: Eric Peterson, who guided the uptempo style at Johnsbury; Derek Touchette of Lake Zurich and Bill Ford, who helped the Wauconda Bulldogs to an eight-win season.

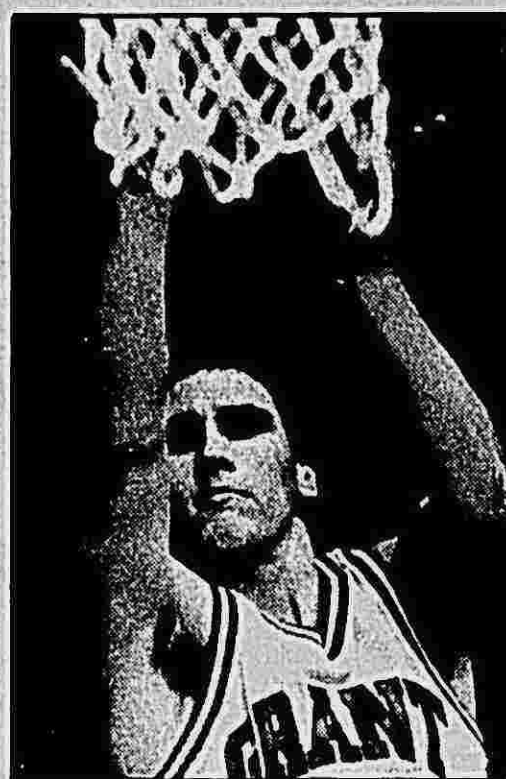

Enough food for thought to much on at least until shootouts at Morris or Crystal Lake South roll around.

Grayslake's Dave Mendralla

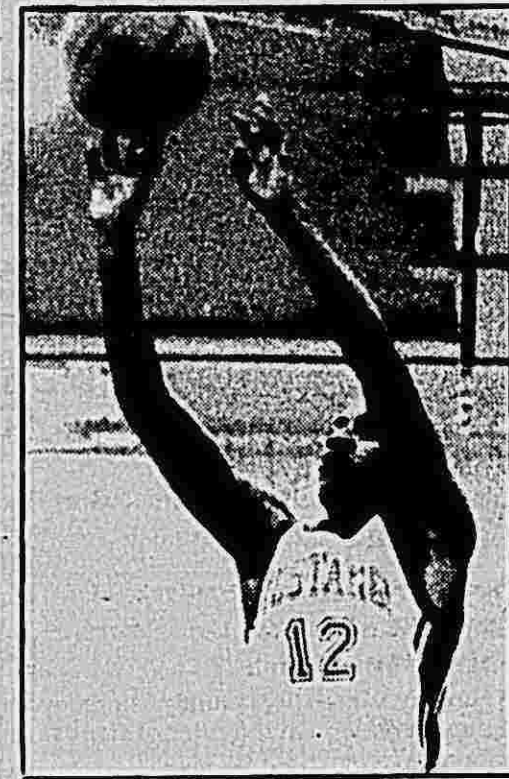

Round Lake's Bob Swanson

Grant's Mike Ingram

Libertyville's Jamie Carruthers

Mundelein's Sean Stackhouse

Easing Your Tax Burden

Nonfilers coming back into the system

It's been over a year since our nonfiler initiative started in October 1992. Since then nearly 18,000 Illinois residents have contacted the IRS, and 3,953 prior year tax returns have been filed.

We know of at least 40,000 nonfilers in northern Illinois and have assigned 200 agents to contact them if they do not come in voluntarily. The Illinois Department of Revenue is working with us on the nonfiler initiative. Their help includes the matching of state licenses of professionals and businesses for potential nonfilers, as well as sharing information they have on state nonfilers.

We started this initiative to bring you voluntarily back into the tax system if you had dropped out for any reason. We have learned that many of you didn't file your tax returns because of a personal crisis such as illness, divorce, death in the family, or loss of a job. After you missed filing for a year, fear took over and you were afraid to start filing again because you thought you would go to jail. Our current policy is that we will not bring criminal charges against anyone who comes forward voluntarily and makes a true disclosure.

We know that some of you have unintentionally fallen behind in your obligations to Uncle Sam. We also know that most of you would like to come forward and clear your tax record.

We want to help you. We understand how easy it is to fall behind. Perhaps you owed taxes that you couldn't pay, so you didn't file a tax return that year. Then the next year you were afraid to file, and pretty soon you were behind several years.

Now is the time to come in and talk to us. We will help you prepare any returns you need to file. And, if you owe us money and cannot pay, we will work out a payment plan based on your financial situation. Remember that it is also possible when all tax returns are filed that we may owe you money. We estimate that about one fifth of all those who haven't filed could get a refund.

We have our own people in our local offices, joined by scores of trained volunteers in many locations throughout northern Illinois, who will sit down with you and help you in preparing returns and working out a payment schedule that takes your personal circumstances into consideration.

When you come in, please bring whatever records you may have, W-2 forms, letters from the IRS, check stubs, etc. All of these will help us to help you more efficiently. No matter what your circumstances, now is the time to lift that burden off your shoulders. You can call us at 1-800-829-1040 from anywhere in Illinois to find out the location of an office where you can be helped. —by Marilyn W. Day, IRS District Director for northern Illinois

Heldman

"A coach from the University of Miami was at my house and he was looking at the game tape, against Waukegan. Their coach said, 'look at him grab at the kids and tell them where to go. this guy can run a ballclub'. That is what I remember of Kyle," his coach and father said.

Kessel finished the season as the county's all-time leading scorer, adding 740 points and eclipsing the county's all-time leading scoring record.

"He demanded everyone around him be a better player," Coach Kessel said.

He shot 57 percent for two-pointers, 44.1 percent from three-point land.

Adding 30 pounds to his upper body made the senior a slash-type up the middle on offense.

Who could forget, of course, the battles between the two.

Kessel took the first as Mundelein downed Libertyville 89-81 in December. The next round belonged to a 41-point effort from Heldman with a straddling-the-three-point arc three which sent the game into OT, a 91-89 Mundelein win. The third went to Heldman, who led the Wildcats in an 84-83 triple overtime thriller over MHS.

Heldman has his plans set, as he will attend the University of Illinois. Kessel is weighing Texas A&M and University of Illinois-Chicago. Originally, some 20 schools offered him scholarships for baseball and-or basketball.

"It depends on whether I want to stay or go away from home," he said.

The decision could have an impact on Dad's future, too.

"I will wait and see what happens with Kyle. I really do not know what I am going to do," Dennis Kessel said while watching the state finals in Champaign.

Kyle Kessel and Matt Heldman.

The two share the honor, as their teams were clearly the cream of the 1993-94 crop.

Both know they have areas to improve before college careers begin.

"I have to work on my defense and my strength," Heldman said.

Heldman wanted to stay close to home, and chose Lou Henson's program over Michigan State. "I know the players and the coaches and I wanted to stay in state," he said. "I love the rims here."

The previous time he played on the Assembly Hall floor, he led the North Shore to the Prairie State Gold Medal.

"They played tenacious defense. We were a little impatient at times," Heldman said.

Jurecko, a freshman center, had 13 rebounds.

"J.R. did a great job. He is a nice kid who works hard," Sanders said of the first-year player from Cleveland.

Jamie Carruthers capped off a LHS career with a 23-point, 8 rebound effort.

"The seniors had so much desire," Jureko said.

The Wildcats could not stop Lee Lampley. Lampley made 7-for-16 field goal tries for 25 points. Post player Jon Luchetti surprised the Wildcats with a 21 point, 10 rebound effort. Ricky Boone was the "unsung hero", according to Boylan coach Steve Goers, with his 12 points.

Libertyville rallied from a 10-point, 43-33 halftime deficit to come to within 4, 63-59, on a 15-footer by Heldman with 3:10 left. The lead was that margin again when Heldman found Carruthers open for a lay-up with 1:53 left.

But the Titans, who lost to eventual champ Peoria Manual by 13 points in the semifinals, went on a 5-0 run after a trey by Carruthers trimmed the margin to 3.

Junior guard Chad Lee, the redhead who was the hero of Waukegan sectional title game and who could become the team leader next season, is holding

Sanders

"We had the same bus driver that we had in 1991. We finished third in the conference and were seeded third in the sectional and King was upset in 1991 and lost this year," he recalled with a smile.

The bus driver had to make a small detour when the team left LHS for Evanston.

"Tim Beshel came up to me and said, 'coach, I forgot my shoes. Our fans have a way of saying 'that was stupid' to an opponent. When Beshel got back on the bus, everyone said, 'that was stupid'," Sanders said.

Does any other school have a better performer of the national anthem than LHS's Jim Reed on the saxophone? One would be hard pressed to convince the 6,100 fans at Welsh-Ryan Arena.

Speaking of the crowd, due to the fact that Weber brought only a handful of fans compared to hundreds for LHS, there was a few seats open. Such was not the case the next night. The place was packed for Northwestern's unlikely 69-68 win over DePaul. Tickets were sold out within 90 minutes.

"I think we will have a good team," he said. "We have two sophomores and two freshmen back. Experience will be a big part of it."

Make that a great experience.

One of the most amazing teams in sports history was the Arvada, Wyoming High School basketball team a few years ago...No players ever sat on their bench during the playing of any game that season because they had only five boys on the whole squad with no substitutes...And despite going the whole year without any substitutes, they still won their way into the Wyoming state high school championship tournament.

Heldman-Kessel show ends with both garnering co-MVP

Co-MVP Matt Heldman

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Sometimes, one has to go outside one's backyard to get a 100 percent objective view on even your best athletes.

So, Rockford Boylan Coach Steve Goers, after eliminating Libertyville 79-70 in the quarter-final round, what is your impression of Matt Heldman of LHS?

"Heldman is an outstanding player, very outstanding. What I like about him is he moves well without the ball. He is one of the best. I voted him first team all state," Goers said.

Heldman earned second team all-state accolades in scoring 26 points a game and leading the Wildcats to the Elite Eight.

But then there is Kyle Kessel. Kessel is, after all, the county's all-time leading scorer, surpassing Lee Oler's mark on the last game of the regular season.

Does one, in MVP consideration, weigh more for post-season advancement or state rankings and the better team record.

The answer is both as Heldman and Kessel are co-MVP's for Lakeland Newspapers 1993-94 all-area team. Kessel won the honor solo last year and this is the first time the award has been shared since Timm West of Grayslake won the first accolade in 1988.

"Has been another coach on the floor. He was a tremendous leader and will be greatly missed," Coach Dennis Kessel said of Kyle.

While Heldman had the gift of health, Kessel battled a back injury throughout the year. He received treatment after practice and at halftime.

Kessel, though, will take to the mound for the Mustangs this spring.

"Basketball is so intense, but baseball is more laid-back," Kyle said.

Even in defeat, Matt Heldman was an eloquent spokesperson.

"It was a great experience," Heldman said following a 79-70 Libertyville loss to Rockford Boylan in the state quarterfinal round game.

The Wildcats dream ended on an afternoon in Champaign when the shooting traveled farther south than the team traveled. The Wildcats were going into the game against a group of shooters who make more than half of their shots. LHS won the battle of the rebounds by 16, but was held to 35 percent shooting from the field.

"They did a nice job of inside and outside us. We knew we would have to play one of our better games - not just an average or good game," LHS Coach Max Sanders said.

Sanders had high praise for his 22-9 club, a team which came to Assembly Hall with the most defeats among the eight qualifiers.

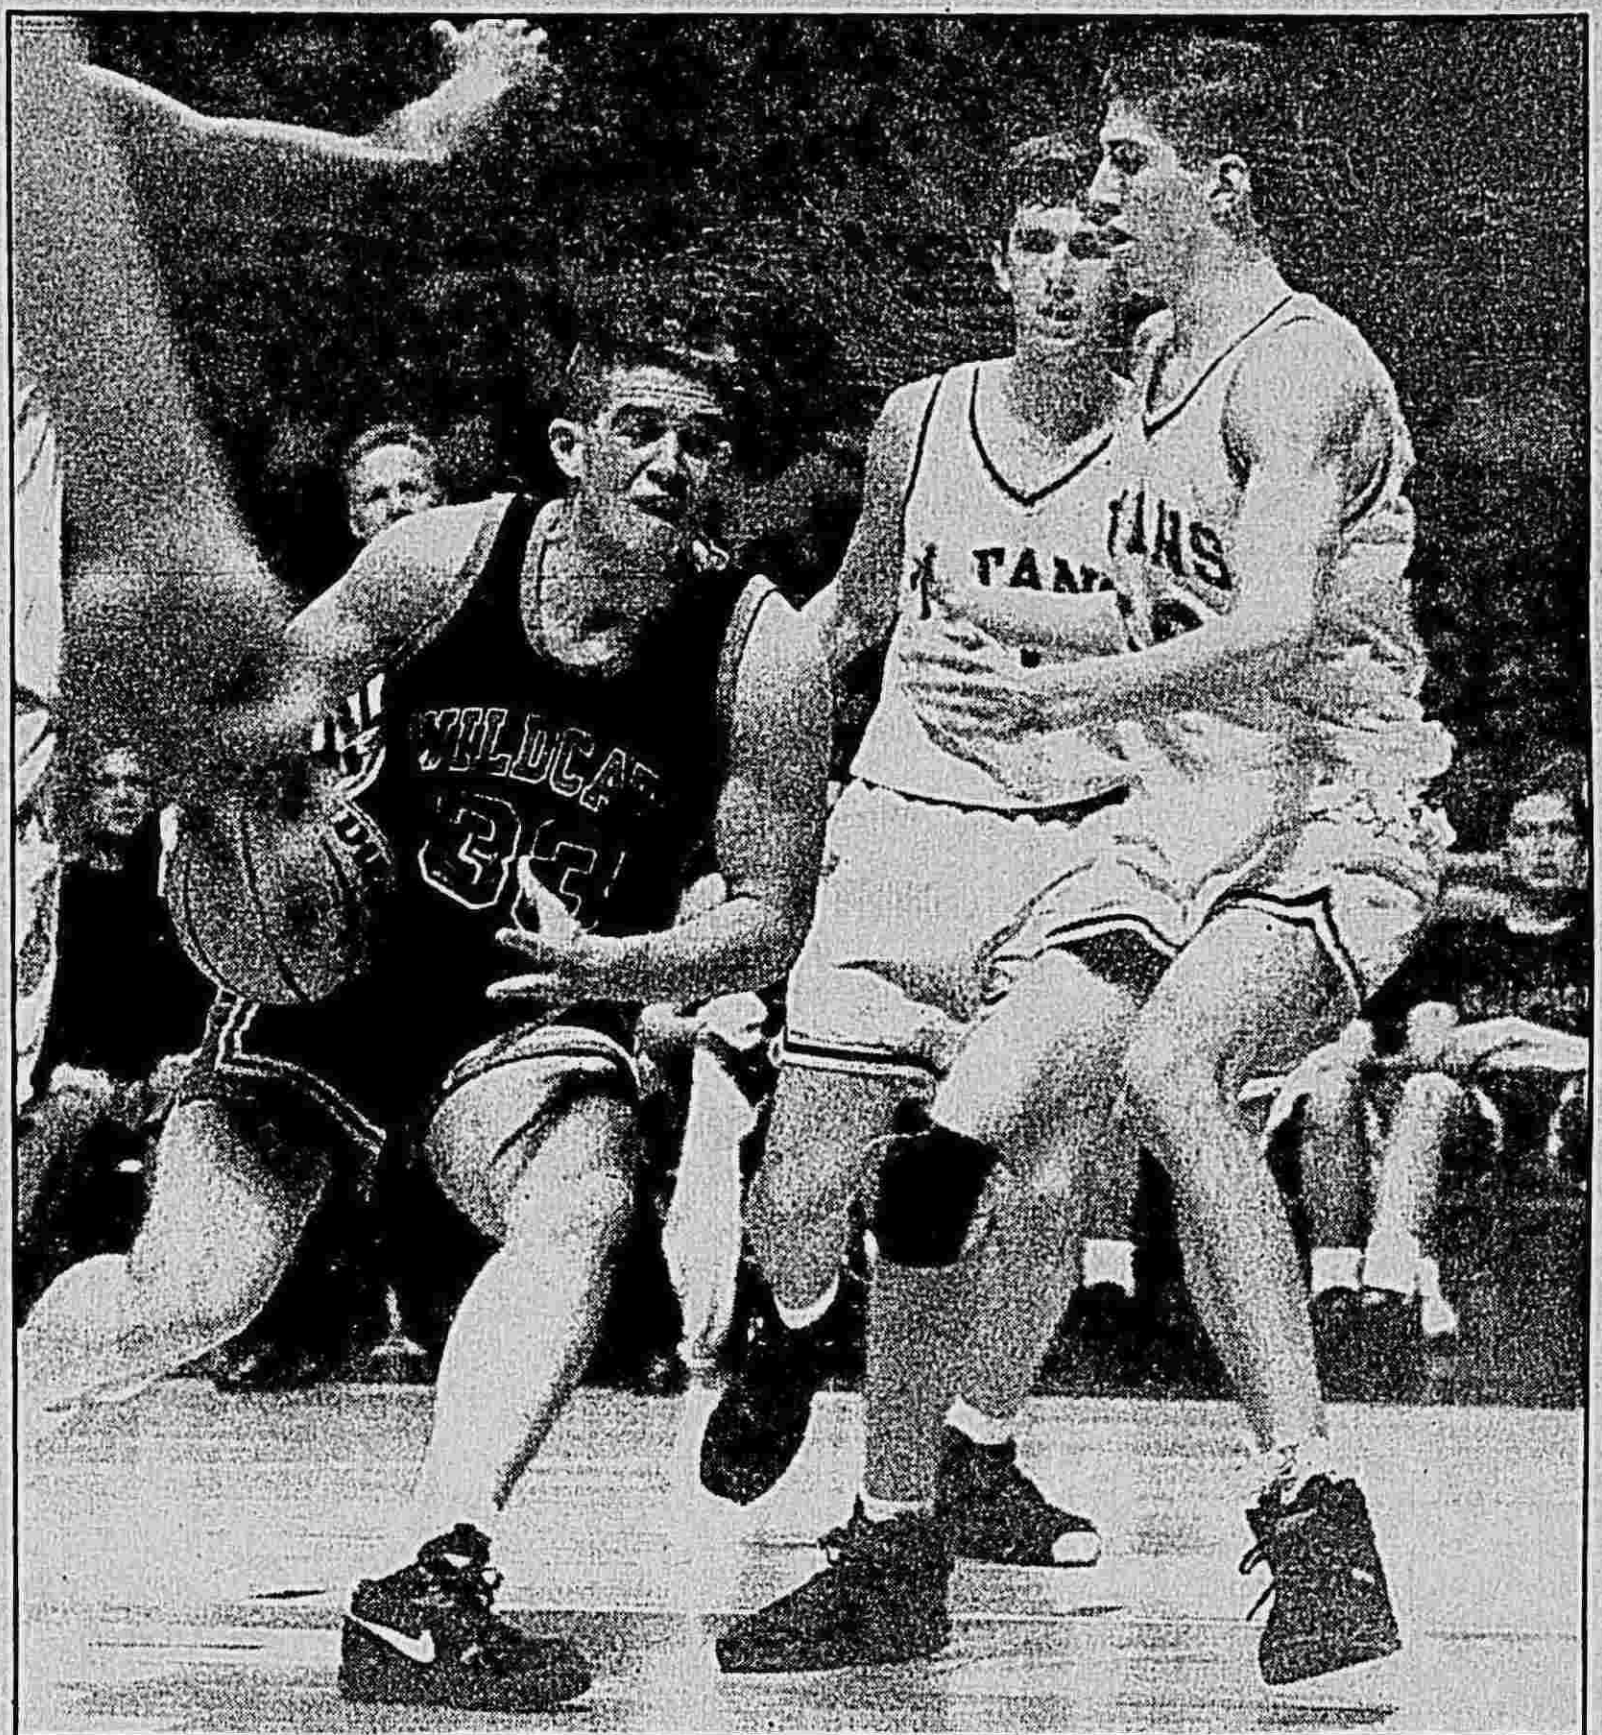

"I will always remember this team for its heart," Sanders said.

"They were just real tall and aggressive underneath. My goal was to get as many rebounds as I could," J. R. Jurecko said.

Although facing a helping defense by Boylan, Heldman shot just 8-for-24 from the field. He impressed the locals, who will have the pleasure of watching him for four years in a University of Illinois uniform.

"That is the way he plays all the time," Sanders said.

Morris's shootout doesn't matter.

Wheeling's tournament doesn't matter much, nor does the too long regular season.

It's not that Libertyville boys basketball Coach Max Sanders does not want his forces to succeed night in, night out. It is just the long-time mentor realizes the importance, or lack thereof, of the regular season.

"You can't tell a team before a game against Buffalo Grove after playing Mundelein that it is an important game, because it is not," Sanders said.

Sanders' approach has worked tremendously as the Wildcats advanced to the Elite Eight with a 61-52 win over Chicago Weber at the Northwestern super sectional.

"I like to see them having fun," Sanders said.

The Wildcats, 22-8 heading to Champaign, have had plenty of fun since 1991's fourth-place finish.

"The 1991 team was known for how smart it was. This year's team will be remembered for its heart," Sanders said.

The Wildcats, led by U of I bound Matt Heldman, outscored Weber 21-11 in the fourth period and earned the trip to Assembly Hall vs. Rockford Boylan.

For those following the Wildcats, one needs a cross-reference guide just to keep track of names. Jayson Via, a key reserve is "Rudy"; Chad Lee, who hit the memorable 15-footer to beat Mundelein the sectional finals, is "Chuck" and Heldman, of course, is "Otis".
